Recall Stilwell For New Drive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Gen. Joseph Stilwell has been recalled from his triple command in the Far East and will be given "a new and important, but at present, undisclosed assignment."

Stilwell's recall was announced by the White House. A few minutes later, the War Department added he was headed for the important new post, stating that Stilwell "will be given a new and important, but at present, undisclosed assignment."

GEN. JOSEPH W. STILWELL
Called Back to Washington

Amid the complete official silence, there was immediate speculation that Stilwell's ultimate job will be leadership of the Army which eventually will invade China and drive the Japanese out.

The White House announcement said:

"Gen. Stilwell has been relieved as chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, as deputy to Adm. Mountbatten, who is commander of the Southeast Asia command, and as U. S. commander of the China-Burma-India theater, and has been recalled to Washington.

"The former China-India theater will be divided into two theaters under separate commanders. The U. S. forces in the China theater will be commanded by Maj. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer, who has been appointed concurrently by the generalissimo chief of staff of the China theater.

"Gen. Wedemeyer is now deputy chief of staff to Adm. Mountbatten.

"The U. S. forces in the India-Burma theater will be commanded by Lt. Gen. Daniel I. Sultan, now deputy commander of the China-Burma-India theater."

Stilwell was assigned to command United States Army forces in the C-B-I theater in March, 1942.

The 61-year-old "Vinegar Joe" began his military career in 1904 upon graduation from West Point. He has seen much foreign service since, including tours of duty in the Philippines, in China and in France during World War I where he participated in a number of the major engagements.

Testy, ascetic and quick-tempered, Stilwell is also kindly and considerate — witness his two nicknames, "Vinegar Joe" and "Uncle Joe" with "Uncle Joe" the more frequent. He detests ceremony and routine, and most of the time has been found slogging through the jungles ith his troops.

During the Allied disasters in Burma in the spring of 1942, Stillwell was with the troops in the fighting and the retreat. His comment on that campaign became a classic:

"We took a hell of a beating."

But he won the Distinguished Service Cross for his leadership.

Wedemeyer, 58, who takes over in China, became deputy chief of staff of the southeast Asia Command in October, 1943.

Sultan, 58, was commanding general of the Eighth Corps in November, 1943, when transfered to the China-Burma-India theater as deputy commander-in-chief.

JAP LOSS, 2 BATTLESHIPS, 5 CRUISERS

By SPENCER DAVIS

ABOARD ADM. KINKAID'S FLAGSHIP, Leyte, Oct. 28 (AP) — American warships guarding the Leyte invasion wiped out the entire Jap naval force trapped in Surigao strait, including at least two battleships and five cruisers, staff officers of the Seventh Fleet reported today.

The enemy force, based at Singapore, was sent to intercept the American fleet, clashing in a decisive pre-dawn engagement Oct. 25.

Several Jap destroyers were also sunk in the action which resulted in destruction of the battleship Yamashiro and the heavy cruiser Mogami. On Oct. 26 R. Adm. Sprague's carrier escort planes sprang on a light cruiser and a destroyer off Ormoc, off Leyte, and sent them to the bottom. The other battleship was not identified.

It is not known definitely if the last two ships were fugitives from the Suriago action or were another light force, but there is no doubt about their elimination.

Whatever crippled ships the Japs were able to siphon off from the northern attack force through San Bernardino straits are believed making for Coron bay off Mindoro and for the protected anchorage on the west coast of Palawan.

Destruction of the Singapore force has reduced the Jap naval strength to such an extent they will be hard put to defend the South China sea. How strong their fleet remains depends on their ability to make quick repairs.

PHILIPPINES—Broken arrow indicates possible American drive toward Manila from Leyte and Samar Islands. Samar, practically all of which is now under American and Filipino domination, is only 15 miles from Luzon island at some points. Black area of Leyte is held by Yanks.

Crumbling Holland Line Imperils 40,000 Nazis

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The whole German stand in southwest Holland is collapsing, front dispatches declared today, as British-Canadian columns raced toward the enemy's last two escape bridges in an effort to cut off perhaps 40,000 Nazi troops below the Maas (Meuse) river.

Elements of eight German divisions were pulling back along the southwestern Dutch front and remnants of two more were cut off at the Schelde estuary.

Front reports said the enemy might yield all of western Holland, including Rotterdam, Amsterdam and the Hague.

Along the south bank of the Schelde survivors of the trapped German 54th Division were being hammered into submission, and the Canadians had pushed to within little more than a mile of Cadzand, one of the last remaining Nazi strongholds.

In one day Canadians took 600 more prisoners, raising the total in that operation to 5922, at a cost of 14 casualties.

On a 40-mile front, Canadians seized the Germans' western anchor of Bergen Op Zoom without a fight, and bit within a mile of Roosendaal. British army troops closed within five miles of the central bastion of Breda, after winning Tilburg as well as Hertogenbosch.

The German defense line below the Maas "has fallen to pieces," one dispatch declared. Another said Allied armor and infantry were moving so rapidly Field Marshal Von Model either

Reds Smash On Into Slovakia

MOSCOW, Oct. 28 (AP)—Russian mountain troops were driving across the threshold of Slovakia today after virtually completing the conquest of Ruthenia with the capture of Umgvar, its chief city.

Seizure of Umgvar gave Gen. Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian army a southern terminus for a supply route through the Carpathian mountains by way of the Uzok pass for an accelerated effort to reach the isolated Czechoslovak Patriot Resistance forces.

Gen. Chernjakhovsky's battle of attrition against the furiously fighting Nazis in East Prussia forced the Germans out of three more village fortresses in the Ebenrode area yesterday.

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Moscow radio announced today the Bulgarian delegation had accepted Allied armistice terms.

Slaughter Japs On Samar Isle

By C. YATES McDANIEL

MacARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 28 (AP)—The crushing power of Gen. MacArthur's invasion armies, released as Japan's shattered fleet fled the Philippines, rapidly engulfed Samar island today, within 275 miles of Manila, aided brilliantly by Filipino guerrillas.

On Leyte, where land-based fighter planes drew cheers from elated soldiers as they began operating from captured airfields, great segments of the island fell to the onrushing Yanks.

By the hour, Japanese dead and wounded were added to the more than 14,000 casualties already inflicted. Most of the dead were men of Nippon's defeated and demoralized 16th Division which perpetrated the tortures on Bataan.

Virtually all Samar's more than 1200 square miles, which extend to within 15 miles of prized Luzon, were under American and Filipino domination. The capital city, Catbalogan, was captured by men of Maj. Gen. Franklin C. Sibert's 10th Corps.

It was the second island capital invested in the Philippines, the other being Leyte's Tacloban, now provisional capital for Sergio Osmena's Philippines government.

Twelve more towns and villages were liberated on Leyte. At least 55 now are free.

Some Nipponese are bottled up in Leyte valley with Yanks moving on them from north and south. They had two choices: flee into the hills—or stand and die.

$100,000 Fire Hits Derry, N. H.

DERRY, N. H., Oct. 28 (AP)—A general alarm fire raged in the center of this town for two hours today, destroying four homes and badly damaging four other houses and a large factory.

Estimates by fire officials placed damage in excess of $100,000. There were no reports of injuries.

Fire Chief Arthur J. Morin said indications were that the blaze started in the waste rayon plant of the Derry Fibre Co., a four-story wooden structure.

Two troops of Boy Scouts and a troop of "Junior Marines," a local boys' organization, all of whom had received special training in fire fighting, as a war measure, were mobilized and went into action.

Firemen checked the flames just 200 feet from the Adams Memorial Building.

Among the homes destroyed was that of Mrs. Edward Berthiaume, owner of the fibre factory. The other houses were owned by State Rep. Robert Morrison, George La Court and the Derry Building Co., the latter being occupied by Samuel Cypher, operator of a massage parlor.

The flames also attacked a three-story extension of the Klex Brothers' shoe factory, causing extensive damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kelley and their family, tenants in the Morrison house, lost all their belongings, this being the second time in ten months that they suffered such a disaster. Their home was burned to the ground last December.

The fire burned the cables of the Derry Electric Co., cutting off all light and electric power in the town.

ON ARMY DIET—Betty Hutton, screen star, who is entertaining the GI's on Guam and Saipan, has been placed on a special diet, provided by the Army, to keep up her weight and energy during her stay at the Pacific camps. The boys have acclaimed her the "best ever" for her performances.

Simpler Farm Plan Pledged by Dewey

By JACK BELL

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 28 (AP)—Charging the New Deal with attempting to force "increased regimen tation" upon the farmers, Gov. Dewey pledged the Republican Party today to a simplified agricultural administration which would provide firm support for farm prices.

Declaring that "three square meals a day" for all Americans would solve the postwar farm problem by requiring even greater production of food than now, he said that to continue the New Deal in office would mean an eventual return to the "substandard prices our farmers were still receiving after eight peacetime years in 1940."

Dewey, who came here on short notice for a major farm speech that he had postponed in Minneapolis, was applauded loudly by a crowd of 3100 persons who jammed themselves into a combined auditorium and gymnasium. Several hundred failed to gain admission.

Gov. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, introducing Dewey from Burlington, Ia., by radio, said he was satisfied that if he was elected the New York Governor would co-operate with Congress to "establish a farm program free from political control, practical in its operation and with long range prosperity as its objective."

The Republican presidential nominee said in an address prepared for delivery over a national radio hookup that the nation must not "return to the substandard prices our farmers were still receiving after eight peacetime years of the New Deal in 1940."

"Despite our war prosperity," the governor said, "millions of families in America do not get enough of the right things to eat. We still have further to go. We must never go back to the scarcity theories and shrinking economy of the New Deal years.

"We must not go back to those dismal days in the middle age of the New Deal when two families out of five in America were living at the undernourished level of less than $20 a week."

Dewey planned after delivery of his once-postponed major agricultural speech to stop in Utica for a brief address on his way back to Albany.

Charging the Administration with attempts at increased regimentation by New Deal theorists in Washington, Dewey said the nation should be committed "to the proposition that the prices of major farm products must be supported against the substandard levels we saw for so many years before this war.

Declaring President Roosevelt often put two men in one job, the candidate said the executive order which had given the Secretary of Agriculture and the Food Administrator co-equal powers had caused the country to lose a first-class man in Chester Davis, Food Administrator.

Davis, he said, resigned with the statement that he had—and here Dewey quoted—"assumed a public responsibility while the authority, not only over broad food policy, but day-to-day actions, is being exercised elsewhere."

Horses Tell Their Own Story

Crash and Flood of Milk End Wild Hub Runaway

By STANLEY CHIPMAN

John Connors, of Farrar ave., Hyde Park, a milk wagon driver, had no sooner stepped into a Summer st. restaurant to make a delivery this morning than one of his horses, Nellie, by name, turned to the other, Evelyn, and asked:

"Don't you ever get tired of this eternal stopping and starting?"

"Tired of it!" echoed Evelyn. "I get so bored some days I don't even relish my oats. Quick, dear, turn your head away from the curb; here comes one of those lump sugar fools. We'll wind up with diabetes if they keep us on this route much longer."

"Let's run away," whispered Nellie.

"Let's," said Evelyn.

As they galloped into Dewey sq., Nellie panted happily: "Look at them scatter! Look at them make for the sidewalks!"

"Turn into Atlantic ave.," wheezed Evelyn. "Heavens but we are cutting a pretty clip! Those race horses think they are put upon if they have to carry 125 pounds. We have a wagon full of milk and I'm not even heaving yet."

"Stay out of the leather district," cautioned Nellie. "You know how scarce hides are."

"Cut into Congress and we'll give the financial district a treat," ordered Nellie. "Whoops, easy! I said EASY! Oh, now you've done it."

"I can't budge, the wagon's tipped over," groaned Evelyn. "What'll we do?"

"You think of something yourself," said Nellie. "You had to be fancy in making that turn. We're in a pretty kit-and-kaboodle now. Look at those broken bottles. Look at that flood of milk."

"Sh-h," warned Evelyn, "here comes a cop! Don't give your right name. Oh, here comes Connors. We're sunk!"

"We'll be eaten by those Harvard professors!" moaned Nellie. "The ones who think horse steak is fine."

"We'll be docked," heaved Evelyn.

"And not the way you think," thundered Connors, catching the last words as he ran up. "It was a sorry day the day I taught you two to talk; you've done nothing but put the whisper on me ever since. Now I'll unharness the pair of you and you can help me pick up what bottles you didn't smash. Whoa, Nellie! Whoa, Evelyn. And woe to me when Whiting hears of this!"

Fort Wayne Hears F. D. 'Correct' Claims of GOP

By HOWARD FLIEGER

EN ROUTE TO CHICAGO WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt, campaigning in the Middle West, told a Ft. Wayne, Ind., station crowd today he is on tour to correct "misrepresentations" by his Republican opposition.

"I expect between now and election day to point out and correct more of them," he said as his train paused enroute to Chicago where the Chief Executive will deliver a major address in soldiers Field tonight.

At Ft. Wayne Mr. Roosevelt called this a "campaign trip" for the first time—and said Republican orators resent it.

"They seem to believe I promised them that I was not going to campaign under any circumstances and, that therefore, they could say anything they wanted about my policies and my administration."

He said they forget his acceptance speech promise to "report to the people the facts about matters of concern to them, and especially to correct any misrepresentations."

"I believe that the American people know what those misrepresentations have been—and just who have made them," he declared.

In Ft. Wayne, a railroad center, Mr. Roosevelt praised the war-job record of the railroads and the production ability of Indiana's farms and industry. Then he concluded:

"I hope that—regardless of which party you support on election day—you will produce a record crop of votes."

Before reaching Ft. Wayne the President's train went through Lima, Ohio, at a five-mile-an-hour pace while the President, seated on the rear platform, waved a greeting to the crowd. In midmorning a small throng gathered at Crestline, Ohio, but the shades on the President's car remained drawn and they did not get a glimpse of the Chief Executive.

The Chief Executive wrote his Chicago speech as he rode today, probably still recalling the noisy reception in Philadelphia's jam-packed Shibe Park last night as he recounted his Administration's preparedness and war record.

He spoke partly as Commander-in-Chief. In that capacity, he emphasized, he chose the nation's present top commanders—men responsible for what he called 27 successful D-Days within the past year.

Ely to Talk Tuesday For Dewey Ticket

The Republican State committee announced today that former Democratic Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts would deliver a radio address under the committee's sponsorship Tuesday night.

His topic will be "Disciplined Democracy." He was scheduled to discuss "National Issues" and "National Candidates." Ely has been an outspoken critic of the Roosevelt Administration.

Bricker Raps Deal As Business Hater

By E. E. EASTERLY

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 28 (AP)—Gov. Bricker asserted today that the New Deal resorted to attacks on business as part of a scheme to build political power by setting class against class.

AT "BOOT" CAMP—Rosaline Hirsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hirsh of Elm Hill Park, Roxbury, is undergoing her basic training at Palm Beach, Fla., after joining the SPARS. She has a brother, Wilbur, serving in the Army.

As an example, he said: "the anti-trust suit against the Associated Press has all the earmarks of a political speech. So also has the recent anti-trust suit against 47 western railroads."

The Ohio Governor was booked at Memorial Hall here in a one-day, eight-hour speech campaign through Missouri, home of Sen. Truman, his Democratic opponent.

He opened his drive for Missouri's 15 electoral votes last night in Kansas City with an address branding President Roosevelt's foreign policy an utter failure and contending that the nation could not afford "to leave world peace and national security in the hands of an Administration that is tired, confused and afflicted with dismal failure."

In his Joplin speech the Governor said Atty. Gen. Biddle admitted that his charges against the western railroads "cannot be supported for at least six months, and that it will be a year before the case can be heard."

"'It looks'," he remarked, quoting the Saturday Evening Post, "'as if the Roosevelt Administration had begun filing fireside chats with federal district courts and calling them lawsuits'."

Bricker will end his Missouri tour with a speech tonight in Springfield after visiting Harrisonville, Rich Hill, Nevada, Lamar, Neosho and Aurora. Truman accepted the Democratic nomination at Lamar, his birthplace.

Churchill Hails Leyte Victory

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill sent his congratulations to President Roosevelt today "on the brilliant and massive" American victory in the Philippines.

The message said:

"Pray accept my most sincere congratulations which I tender on behalf of His Majesty's government on the brilliant and massive victory gained by the sea and air forces of the United States over the Japanese in the recent heavy battles.

"We are glad to know that one of His Majesty's Australian cruiser squadrons had the honor of sharing in this memorable event."

Allied Planes Hit Island Off Malay

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28 (AP)—An Allied aerial strike against Penang, Japanese-held island off the west coast of the Malay peninsula 400 miles north of Singapore, was reported today in a Jap broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.

The Japs said "10 enemy nuisance raiders" made the attack, but "no damage" was caused.

Dozen Hurt in R. I. Shipyard Mishap

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 28—At least a dozen workmen were injured, several critically, and more than a score escaped harm when a huge 80-ton steel forepeak section fell 40 feet while being hoisted into position on a cargo ship at the Walsh-Kaiser shipyard.

None of the injured was crushed under the massive section, but many were hurt by falling beams and timbers as the section carried away part of a headhouse in its fall.

Four of the injured were taken to Rhode Island Hospital, but officials there were not able to identify them immediately or announce the extent of their injuries.

Others were treated in various hospitals nearby.

Shipyard officials said the crash apparently was caused by something going wrong with one of two huge cranes hoisting the section into position.

The cranes were badly smashed as the 80-ton load plunged to the ground, scattering timbers and debris in all directions.

The 30-foot headhouse in which several men were working was not struck directly by the falling section, but one end was ripped away in a glancing blow. All the workers in the headhouse were injured.

4 Firemen Hurt In Lowell Blaze

LOWELL, Oct. 28 - Four firemen were hospitalized and damage estimated at $35,000 was caused today when fires broke out in two downtown Lowell buildings.

A two-alarm fire in the old Mechanics Bank building in Merrimac st. caused loss estimated at $15,000. Treated at St. John's Hospital for injuries at this fire were Asst. Chief Frank J. Kelleher, 53; Capt. George Nickerson, 42; Hosemen Eugene Higgins, 35, and Emile Wesson, 40.

Berlin Bombed Twice After Goebbels' Plea

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Two sharp air attacks hit Berlin last night a short time after Dr. Goebbels completed a "battle to death" plea to the German nation.

The stronger force of swift Mosquito bombers dumped their bombs on the Nazi capital almost as soon as Goebbels left the air. An hour later a second group struck.

Firebug Sets 6 Blazes To Terrorize Cambridge

Striking six times in slightly more than an hour, a firebug terrorized widely scattered sections of Cambridge today, with hundreds of persons driven from their homes.

In three other cases, box alarms were sounded and firemen, unable to learn who pulled the boxes, suspected that the arsonist had rung the alarm himself just to see and hear the racing engines.

Most daring of the blazes set was in the Veterans of Foreign Wars headquarters in the Municipal building, Central sq., where police were on duty at headquarters on the first floor. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

At least 200 persons fled smoke and flames at the Modern Manor apartments, Massachusetts ave., when two separate fires were kindled in the basement. Heavy smoke rolled upward through all floors, but tenants were able to return to their beds after the blazes had been doused.

The other fires all were set in back yards, close to the sides of dwellings, but were so speedily brought under control that little damage was caused.

The firebug raked leaves and waste paper into a pile before setting them aflame in the rear of dwellings in Church, Brattle, Harvard and Prescott sts.

Police in cruisers toured the city in an attempt to stop the fires and catch the firebug.

Police, Firemen Will Get Raise Of $200 Dec. 1

By TOM RILEY

Boston police and firemen will receive $200 permanent annual salary increases effective Dec. 1, it was learned authoritatively today.

The pay rises, granted to aid the city's public servants meet the rising costs of living, will mean an additional $3.84 per week in the pay enevelopes of more than 1900 policemen and between 900 and 1000 firemen. The annual cost to the city will approximate more than $500,000.

Because of the number of police and firemen serving in the armed forces, the size of both departments is considerably smaller than in normal times. Ordinarily, the police force numbers more than 2100 officers and patrolmen, while the fire department usually maintains a personnel of about 1600.

Although Mayor Tobin was unavailable for comment because of his activity in campaigning for governor, it has been learned that plans are already being studied to make the pay increases effective by Dec. 1., and any official announcement about the increases between now and the Nov. 7 elections is most unlikely.

Disclosure of the effective date of the pay increases came as Atty. Samuel G. Thorner, counsel for the Boston union of the International Ass'n of Fire Fighters, AFL, today admitted he stood ready to abandon his campaign to get additional money for police and firemen if the mayor would make the announcement official.

Thorner, earlier, had asked the mayor to make the increases effective by Nov. 1, and had repeatedly charged Mayor Tobin was avoiding the issue. Nevertheless, the attorney said that firemen and policemen have been informed "by unofficial, unauthorized spokesmen for the mayor," that the pay rises will go into effect Dec. 1.

The campaign to obtain the pay rises started a year ago and was climaxed two weeks ago when thousands of petitions demanding immediate action were circulated throughout the city by Thorner.

The petitions were circulated as the result of a meeting which representatives of police and firemen held with Mayor Tobin

FALL RIVER HEARS TRUMAN BACK LABOR

FALL RIVER, Oct. 28 (AP)—Sen. Truman asserted in a prepared speech here this afternoon that "so long as labor lives up to its responsibilities we Democrats will fight for its rights."

He added, in an address for a Democratic-Labor rally, that the Roosevelt Administration "has led the way in great social reforms that the Republican Party does not now dare attack."

"Instead," said the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, Gov. Dewey, the Republican standard-bearer, "claims he will accept them," but "the people know the sorry record of the Republican Party and particularly its members of Congress on these social reforms."

"They know," he continued, "that they can trust the Democratic Party to continue and expand them. And they know also that all the eractionaries who are bitterly opposed to these reforms are backing Mr. Dewey. They expect that despite his campaign statements the Republican Party, if it gets into office, will work with them."

Truman said "the phony prosperity of the 20's only benefitted the Wall Street speculators. The Republicans let them go up and down the country selling you a lot of worthless securities."

While enroute to Worcester where he will speak tonight, Truman told reporters he advocated "full equality" of treatment and full representation at the peace table for small nations.

Canton Flier Gets One Jap Battleship

When they post the final and official score of what happened to Hirohito's fleet when it tried to swap punches with the U. S. Navy in the big battle of the Philippines this week, Lt. Joseph J. Hennessey of Messenger st., Canton, may be credited with one battleship.

Certain it is that he badly damaged one, for he piloted a torpedo bomber that plumped four of its huge eggs into the warship. The Navy chalked up that much for Hennessey while the Japs were still fleeing.

Call it intuition if you want, but his wife, Carolyn, had a feeling he was in the thick of it when the Japs tried to break up the American invasion of the Philippines with air and sea power.

"I knew it when I saw Ens. Bill Robinson's name as among the fighter pilots in that action," she said. "He is a Westfield man and I was sure Joe was in that fight with him."

Several hours later the International News Service told briefly about Lt. Hennessey's exploit. He had taken off from one of the carriers and picked out a Jap battleship for his target. It had turned into the Leyte gulf with 13 other warships, one of three fleets the Japs used in their battle strategy.

Hennessey dived and let the battleship have four torpedo bombs. It was through for the day, perhaps forever, as the final score may indicate.

The lieutenant is 23, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Hennessey of Canton. He went into the service in July, 1942, at the end of his junior year in the Boston University College of Business Administration. He had studied at St. Raphael's Parochial School, Hyde Park, and St. John's Preparatory School, Cambridge.

Hennessey trained at Squantum, Pensacola, Miami, Alameda, Calif., and Glenview, Ill. He won his wings after Pensacola. While he was at Alameda he married Miss Carolyn Prince, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Prince, of Canton. He has been overseas seven months.

OPA Has Plan to End Beef Black Market

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration, it was learned today, is considering establishing flat price ceilings for live cattle as the best way to fight what officials describe as a "very bad black market" in beef, particularly top grades.

Under the current regulation it is not illegal for slaughterers to pay or producers to receive more than top-of-range prices. The new plan would make this illegal and provide a penalty in addition to subsidy deductions.

Taxicab Ass'n Honors Hub Girl

For the first time in its history, the American Taxicab Ass'n has a woman serving as a vice-president

She is Miss Emily Dayton Rockett, 28-year-old Boston socialite, graduate of Radcliffe College.

The blue-eyed brunette was named New England vice-president at the association's annual meeting here, over which she presided.

Miss Rockett, who majored in government at Radcliffe, is the daughter of the late John T. Rockett. When he died last February she became head of his firm which operates 85 taxicabs in Boston.

Truman's Town Greets Bricker

LAMAR, Mo., Oct. 28 (AP)—Gov. Bricker came right into the birthplace of his opponent today in quest of votes for his vice-presidential candidacy, and Lamarr responded with the largest crowd the Republican candidate has faced in a rear platform appearance so far in Missouri. City Marshal M. D. Bass estimated more than 1200 persons gathered about Bricker's special train.

Referring to the State as a whole, Bricker said, "you have sent great men into government, but none better than Gov. Forrest C. Donnell, your Republican nominee for U. S. Senator, and Jean Paul Bradshaw, candidate for Governor."

Romantic Yank in Holland Nearly Dates Cute Blonde

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE AEF IN GERMANY, Oct. 21 (Delayed) (AP)—It happened across the border in Holland.

He was an American private with a few hours to spend in town. She was a Dutch girl—chubby, blonde and with a wide grin. They met on a street corner. Their only introduction was an exchange of smiles.

He spoke no Dutch; she spoke no English; so they used the few words of French that both knew.

"Cigarette?" he asked, pulling out a pack.

"Oui," she replied.

"Mademoiselle?" he inquired cautiously.

"Oui," she replied.

He held out his arm and asked, "pomenade?"

Again she said, "oui."

Arm in arm they strolled down the street. They had gone only a couple of blocks when a husky young Dutchman stepped up behind them, seized the girl by an arm and began hauling her back the way she had come. She turned and waved goodbye to the surprised soldier and by way of explanation called back, "madame!"

2 City Employe Unions Decide to Back Tobin

By FRANK REILLY

Mayor Tobin claimed substantial support from city employes in his campaign for election as governor today when two groups of organized labor, composed exclusively of municipal workers, announced their endorsement of his candidacy.

The endorsements are regarded by observers as the most important developments of the week in the Tobin contest, since prior to now there had been considerable doubt as to what position the city workers would take in the contest.

Neutrality on their part would be the equivalent of a public disapproval of the mayor's candidacy, observers felt.

The endorsements came from the powerful Sanitary, Street Cleaning and Repair Shops Local, American Federation of Municipal Employes, and from Long Island Hospital Local of the same organization.

Formal endorsement from the hospital group read: "The proof to the people of Massachusetts that you are a friend of labor is the fact that you were the first mayor of Boston to recognize its underpaid employes at Long Island Hospital."

Tobin in a statement today declared that his Republican opponent, Lt. Gov. Cahill, has ignored charges that state mental hospitals under his jurisdiction as chairman of the Institutional committee of the Governor's Council are overcrowded and in unsanitary condition.

"Lieut. Gov. Cahill avoids this issue because it stands as an indictment of him as a state official," Tobin said. "Supervision of the mental institutions housing 40,000 unfortunate wards of the Commonwealth rests primarily upon him."

Lieut. Gov. Cahill said today: "Mayor Tobin has yet to give an accounting of his seven years' service as mayor of Boston. He has yet to point to one public improvement made in the city during his service as chief executive.

"The voters of Massachusetts are interested in the qualifications of a candidate seeking public office. I am sure they will express that interest when on Nov. 7 they vote to continue decent, honest government similar to that of the last six years under Saltonstall and Cahill."

Cahill rallies are to be held tonight in Franklin and Quincy while Mayor Tobin is scheduled to speak tonight in Worcester, Fall River and New Bedford.

Governor's Councilor Clarence A. Barnes of Mansfield, Republican candidate for attorney general, today predicted that Massachusetts will be carried by the entire GOP ticket Nov. 7 and that a victory sweep for his party will get under way following the speech of Gov. Dewey here Wednesday evening.

"I urge the people of Massachusetts to vote for Gov. Dewey," he said, "and I assure them that if chosen as their attorney general I shall serve faithfully and to the best of my ability."

Former Lt. Gov. Francis E. Kelly, Democratic candidate for attorney general, stated today that if elected to that office he will appoint a special assistant to protect the rights of returning veterans of the present conflict.

WITH AMERICAL INFANTY DIVISION SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 28 (AP)—The first time T-Sgt. Herbert R. Hadley, son of Mrs. Ellen Hadley, 216 High st., Lowell, Mass., got close to the burst of a Jap knee mortar shell was on Guadalcanal. He was wounded.

It happened again during a hot roadblock action deep in the jungles. This time his pack was blown from his back but he didn't receive a scratch himself.

Formerly employed as an upholsterer by the Hadley Upholstering Co. in Lowell, Hadley is a veteran of the Guadalcanal and Bougainville campaigns, has been overseas for thirty-three months.

Jews Redouble Appeal Efforts

Although the 1944 Combined Jewish Appeal has attained 85 per cent of its goal, workers were urged today to redouble their efforts in the final phase of the drive to put the campaign over the top.

Speaking at the Women's Day report meeting at the Hotel Statler, Mrs. Israel Goldstein of New York, president of the Jewish national fund, urged support of the combined appeal to help solve the problem of refugee Jews and world security.

"The Jewish problem is tied up with world security, and security of the Jews in a national state will do much to assure the security of the world," she said. "Even with the best intentions, the planners of the world peace will find that Jews cannot be placed in an environment of instability. They must be given a position of autonomy, similar to that of other nations."

Women Hear Abp. Cushing

Archbishop-elect Richard J. Cushing celebrated a solemn pontifical mass at St. Bridget's Church, Framingham, today, to open a conference on "The Social Vocation of the Catholic Woman," sponsored by the Framingham Catholic Woman's Club in affiliation with the Diocesan League of Catholic Women.

The archbishop-elect also preached the sermon.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a panel discussion of "The Catholic Woman in the Community," with Martin F. O'Connor, A. M., president of Framingham Teachers' College, presiding.

Speakers at the panel discussion will include Rev. John S. Sexton, editor of The Pilot and director of the Diocesan Press; Rose O'Connell, author and economics professor; Sarah Wingate Taylor of the Harvard University research department; and Mrs. John J. O'Connor, director of the citizenship training department of the Boston Juvenile Court.

Crew Lives 19 Days In Tank Under Fire

By WES GALLAGHER

PALENBURG, Germany, Oct. 28 (AP)—How would you like to live, sleep and eat for 19 days in a Sherman tank in plain sight of the German lines 300 yards away?

That is what virtually a whole battalion of tank men of a well known armored division have been doing while holding a front line sector. It has been a case of doing light housekeeping inside cramped and chilly Shermans or getting shot.

These tanks are squatted in shallow holes to control given parts of the front. Every time one of the tank men lifted his head in daylight the Germans cut loose with artillery, mortars and sniper fire.

"All I want to see is the guy who designed these Shermans locked up inside one with his mother-in-law for just a week," declared Lt. James Rose of Beaumont, Tex.

"When we first moved into that position we could not even look outside the turret," said T-4 James I. Harris, a driver from Hartwell, Ga.

"Every time a head popped up, snipers all around us cut loose. We did not need any persuading to stay inside. Some doughboy behind our tank tried to make a dash for it one day and got only three steps before he was shot down. The body lay there for three days before we could move it."

Rose and his crew ate "K" and "C" rations for the entire stay.

"Doughboys in a pillbox 50 feet away cooked themselves some French fries, and they sure smelled good, but they did not do us any good," lamented Cpl. William F. Hobbs of Ft. Smith, Ark., a gunner.

"We did all our cooking on a small stove in the tank, in one pan which was never washed," explained T-5 Elwood Hall of Moline, Ill., a radio operator. "And not a guy got sick."

KATHERINE R. DOHERTY

Hyde Park Girl Missing Week

Missing since she left her Hyde Park home on an errand for her widowed mother a week ago this noon, Katherine R. Doherty, 14-year-old junior high school student, of Frazer st., Hyde Park, was the object of a widespread police search today.

Her description was broadcast to police stations throughout the city after her mother, Mrs. Bertha Doherty, 39, reported her disappearance to police yesterday.

Mrs. Doherty said Katherine left home to go to the South End to collect some money which was due her mother. She failed to return.

Widow Learns 3d, Last Son Lost

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (INS)—A 49-year-old widow learned today that her youngest boy had been killed in a plane crash—the third and last of her sons to be lost in the war.

She is Mrs. Theresa Cahill, whose son, James, 23, was killed in the same battle in which his brother, John, 25, was taken prisoner by the Japs on Bataan.

Her courage never failed in the agonizing months she awaited news from John. She found some comfort in the fact that James had met death instead of capture, she said:

"When I read of the Bataan death march, I was almost grateful that Jim was dead. He was delicate and could never have endured such suffering."

The last word from her prisoner-son said that he was seriously ill in a Tokyo prisoner-of-war camp. That was several months ago.

The youngest son, Joseph Eugene, had promised his brothers to care for his mother and sister, 16-year-old Dolores. But he grew restive and finally joined the Army Air Corps, with his mother's consent.

She has received the tragic news that Joseph had died when his plane plunged into the icy waters between Greenland and Iceland. She fought back the tears and murmured:

"It's terrible to give up my fine sons. But the war must be won. And this is a young man's war."

Have a "Coke" = Join in the fun

...or adding life and sparkle to Halloween

What's a young folks' party without refreshment? "Coke" is naturally a member in excellent standing with any group of youngsters. And there's no better place to enjoy Coca-Cola than at home, served ice-cold right from the family refrigerator. Have a "Coke" is the invitation that starts a party off right and keeps it going. Coca-Cola adds its own life and sparkle to the natural gaiety of youth. When young people get together, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—symbolizes the sunny side of life.

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

Install Adm. Gygax At Boston Navy Yard

At ceremonies in Charlestown Navy Yard witnessed by naval personnel and war workers, R. Adm. Felix X. Gygax, USN, today accepted command of the yard and the First Naval District from R. Adm. Robert A. Theobald, who has been placed on the retired list after 45 years' service.

Adm. Teobald ordered his flag lowered from the mast of the U. S. S. Constitution as a symbol of the end of his command. Immediately after, the four-starred flag of Adm. Gygax was raised in its place.

Accompanied by Capt. Ronan C. Grady, USN, yard captain, Adm. Gygax greeted yard officers and department heads.

The retiring commandant spoke briefly to the yard personnel, expressing his appreciation for their co-operation during his tour of duty as their chief.

Adm. Gygax, with his staff, went from the yard to district headquarters in Causeway st. on a tour of inspection, and was introduced to department executives.

The commandant came to Boston after duty as commandant of Norfolk Navy Yard. A native of Osborne, Kan., he graduated from Annapolis in 1908 and long has been recognized as an authority in submarine warfare.

Adm. Theobald, a native of San Francisco, will return to that city.

Dewey 'Hyphen Drive' Blasted

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — U. S. Rep. John W. McCormack (D.) of Massachusetts, House majority leader, said today the Republican party's presidential campaign was "striking at the very heart of our democracy in a despicable attempt to revive in this war the old 'hyphenated-American' concept by appealing to the emotions of voters of Italian and Polish descent."

"The axe to launch upon such risky and divisive tactics was given to Republican leaders and organization workers by Thomas E. Dewey himself," McCormack asserted at a press conference at Democratic national headquarters.

McCormack said he expected Mr. Roosevelt would carry Massachusetts by 125,000 votes.

King Zog, who ruled prior to the German and Italian occupation, now is in London.

Big RAF Transport Sets Atlantic Record

MONTREAL, Oct. 28 (AP) — An aircraft of the RAF Atlantic Transport Command carrying a maximum load, ended at Dorval airport today a journey officially described as "a performance without precedent among flights along the lengths of the American continent."

The plane, a converted Liberator bomber, took only 26 hours and 52 minutes for a 5600-mile flight from Natal, Brazil, to Montreal, the RAF said. The flight was on the last leg between the African gold coast and Canada.

Why 'No Butter'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (INS)—Here's the reason for the current butter shortage—labeled the most critical in the nation's history—as outlined by government food experts in Washington:

"You can't eat your butter and drink it, too."

This means wide diversion of milk into wartime products such as cheese, evaporated and dried milk and other dairy items, plus a 20 to 25 per cent increase in civilian milk consumption has cut sharply into the butter output.

Q—Can a wounded man, who was once a prisoner of war, be returned to combat duty after he recovers from injuries? A Soldiers Wife, Meredith, N. H.

A—The Army has no established ruling on such cases. They state if a man is physically qualified to return to combat duty, he is accordingly reassigned regardless of past duty. However, if medical officers advise a discharge it is followed through.

Q—I am trying to locate my son who is in the Army—James Peter Donovan. I haven't heard from him since he was five years old. He is now 21. He was born in McLellan st., Roxbury. I have heard he is in the Army and, as I am getting old, I would love to see him or hear from him. M. D., Roxbury.

A—Write Adjutant General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C. Give all details regarding your son. They may be able to help you locate him if he is in the U. S. Army.

Q—My brother was given a medical discharge from the Navy in Sept., 1943. He received his mustering-out pay amounting to $200. He was accepted again for the service on a voluntary enlistment in May, 1944, and four months later received another medical discharge. Is he entitled to a second mustering-out pay? D. S., Newport, R. I.

A—No. The gov't only pays the mustering-out benefit once.

Q—About a year ago I was released from the Army and placed in the Reserve Corps in order to enter a war plant. Two weeks ago I received my honorable discharge by mail. Would I now be entitled to mustering-out pay? C. H. Y., South End.

A—The answer is no. All persons discharged from the Army, 38 years of age and over, who took advantage of the Army directive which released them from service to work in war plants, placing them, in the Reserve Corps, will receive honorable discharges eventually. Does not change status on mustering-out pay, however.

Q—I was honorably discharged from the Army last April. Since that time I have been waiting for money which I saved during my 28 months overseas in the Soldiers' Savings Finance. How long will it be before I will receive this claim? F. M., Boston.

A—Army officials state you should have received your savings money at time of discharge. They suggest you bring discharge papers and all papers pertaining to your savings account to the U. S. Army finance officer, 80 Federal st., Boston, to learn what procedure to take.

Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in this daily column.

Film Star's Father Fined 100,000 Marks

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 28—(INS)—Leo Slezak, father of the Hollywood film star Walter Slezak, has been fined 100,000 marks in Austria as a reprisal for his son's appearance in an anti-Nazi film, travelers from Vienna stated.

The Nazis were particularly offended by Slezak's portrayal of the German U-boat officer in "Lifeboat" and a Gestapo officer in "This Land Is Mine," it was reported.

Star-Gazer Fined $10 in Lynn

"I was just studying the stars." That disarming explanation was offered by George Dustin, 42, of Newhall st., Lynn, when he was caught on the fire escape of a neighboring apartment house by Patrolman John McLaughlin.

McLaughlin couldn't see why stars weren't just as visible from Dustin's own home so he arrested him on a charge of misconduct.

Judge Ralph W. Reeve found Dustin guilty in Lynn court today and imposed a $10 fine—not for stargazing.

Ray McDonald Weds Elizabeth Fraser

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 27 (AP)—Ray McDonald and Elizabeth Fraser, leading players in the Army Air Forces production "Winged Victory," were married a few hours after his sister, actress Grace McDonald, announced her engagement to a Marine officer.

The ceremony was performed at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills. Miss McDonald said no date had been set for her marriage to Lt. Ralph Green, former Midwest theater operator now stationed at Santa Barbara, Cal.

Elementary Teachers In Conference Here

With Miss Catherine M. McHugh, president, in the chair, the Boston Elementary Teachers' Club held a one-day conference at the Hotel Statler today.

Feature event on the program was a luncheon session at which speakers were scheduled to discuss various angles of the report of the Strayer commission survey of Boston schools.

KING PROMOTES BROTHER

LONDON (AP)—King George VI has promoted his younger brother, the Duke of Gloucester, to general in the army and air chief marshal in the RAF, it was announced last night.

"My neighbor on the next street had a telephone installed

Why did he get one before me?"

The above question is often asked of telephone people.

The basis on which new telephones are installed today is that they must be essential to the proper discharge of the user's duties in the armed forces, war work, or public welfare and security. Your neighbor may be in one of these classifications.

Or if he had telephone service before, and moved within his immediate area, he would be entitled to transfer his service.

Nobody will be put ahead of you on the waiting list except for reasons like these.

History Daily Quiz Aid to Old, Young

Great days in American history will be relived by all those who participate in the daily quiz to be published in these newspapers beginning tomorrow.

BLASTS NAZIS — Ensign John M. Denison, USN, of Lexington, who is credited with blasting Germans during Allied landings in France. He is a member of a fighter squadron, based on the aircraft carrier Tulagi.

Published in preparation for the William Randolph Hearst National American History Awards, the first quiz will appear in Sunday's Advertiser, continuing each day thereafter in the Boston American-Record.

Although primarily intended to aid public and parochial school pupils in brushing up on the history which will be the basis of the competition, the quizes will be found inspirational and absorbing by their elders as well.

The list of questions will be published daily until the elimination tests, which will be held in Boston, Nov. 30, to determine which students will represent the city in competition for the national awards in December

The elimination test will comprise 20 questions on American history, to be accompanied by an essay of not more than 250 words on some subject in American history to be announced later.

Prizes totaling $25,000 in War Bonds will be distributed in the 13 key cities where the awards are sponsored by the Hearst newspapers. The national first prize will be $2000 in bonds; second prize, $1000; third, $500, fourth to ninth, $100 each, and $50 bonds to the next 31 contestants.

In addition, Boston competitors will be eligible to awards of $1000 in War Bonds, plus a $100 set of history books to the school with the best record in competition. The first local prize will be $200; second, $100; third, $75; fourth through sixth, $50, and seventh through 25th, $25 each.

had to pull back across the bridges at Moerdijk and Geertruidenberg, 10 miles northwest and northeast of Breda, "or have his reeling forces cut to bits."

As success followed success, Allied headquarters announced the free use of the great port of Antwerp, the prize of this campaign, now is blocked only by the isolated and doomed enemy coastal guns of one battery at Vlissingen (Flushing) on Walcheren island.

The Germans are abandoning their positions from the Schelde to Tilburg, Associated Press War Correspondent William F. Boni reported, and the campaign has become a race to reach the Maas bridges.

North of Tilburg, an armor and infantry slash carried through Loon Op Zand and headed for Oosterhout on the escape route from Breda to the Geertruidenberg bridge over the Maas. Here the British were only six miles from the Maas.

But on the eastern sector of the Allied salient into Holland, the Germans struck hard at American armor in the Venlo sector, and took the town of Meijel north of the Rodermond-Weert railway. A British staff officer said the enemy threw 30 tanks into the fight.

Field Marshal Montgomery's forces were within two miles of Roosendaal and had cut the Tilburg-Breda highway. Breda is the last strongpoint shielding a general German withdrawal from southwestern Holland across the Maas, the Waal Rhine and their various branches.

Allied successes in the Schelde estuary area do not mean that a flood of shipping can start to Antwerp at once, even after the Vlissingen guns are silenced. There remains the nasty job of sweeping and clearing the long waterway approach to the port.

On the main Allied front facing east, U. S. First Army troops were subjected to light artillery fire in the Aachen area and to the south along the Belgian frontier east of St. Vith.

Far to the south the communique reported slight gains on the Allied Sixth Army group front in the vicinity of Rombervillers, including the capture of the village of Houseras, 15 miles northeast of Epinal.

German attempts to infiltrate Allied positions in the Vosges mountains were beaten back, the communique said, and "limited progress" was achieved by Allied troops between Bruyeres and Le Thillot.

erick A. Irving's 24th Division, crashing through the 16th's backbone of resistance west of Palo, pushed spearheads six miles southward into the valley. They drove through Santa Fe and Pastrana.

Elements of Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold's Seventh and Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley's 96th Divisions struck north above captured Burauen to within two miles of Dagami, main supply and troop concentration center for the Nipponese 16th.

The gap between the converging Yanks is less than 10 miles. When it is closed the plight of all Japanese between there and the east coast is hopeless.

Japanese facing the 24th blew up bridges to slow the American advance but makeshift spans were built and the infantrymen continued the relentless pursuit.

Such Japanese as escaped north of Irving's valley spearheads headed straight for a new peril. Barring their way at Carigara Bay are 10th Corps elements of Gen. Sibert which have seized the coastal town of Barugo. It is the terminus for one of two escape roads the Japanese can use and is only five miles east of Carigara, terminus of the other.

The appearance today of land-based fighters on captured Leyte fields, after engineers had finished them for use, had an electrical effect. Soldiers, seeing an end to daylight enemy plane sallies, paused in their fighting to cheer. Filipinos, told these were American planes back on the Philippines to stay, yelled wildly.

MacArthur, who has made it plain he is eager to get at the Japanese who tortured his men on Bataan, sounded the requiem in today's communique:

"The Japanese 16th Division, commanded by Lt. Gen. Shiro Makino, which participated in operations in the Philippines in 1942, has been thoroughly defeated. Remnants are retreating either toward the west coast or into the mountain ranges paralleling Leyte valley on the southwest."

'L' Engineers Solve Fund Parade Puzzle

Ingenuity of Boston Elevated engineers today assured success of tomorrow's Red Feather parade through downtown Boston streets after a series of conferences and several hours of hard work.

The problems to be solved included shaving down a huge float of the Gillette Razor Co., consisting of a revolving globe of the world, and another float of the Bethlehem - Hingham shipyard, whose workers modelled an LST.

The latter problem was taken care of when engineers put in a hinged mast so the float could have trolley wire clearance.

Meanwhile, officers of the United War Fund announced the following contributions of $500 or more:

$10,000—Mr. and Mrs. Neal Rantoul; $1550—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Beal; 1500—Miss Helen Thomas; 1200—Mrs. Augustus Hemenway; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman Rowley; 1000—Mrs. John C. Lee; 800—Mr. and Mrs. Russel H. Leonard; 600—Charles Lowell Barlow; Mrs. A. Winsor Weld; 500—Mrs. Winthrop Ames; Mrs. George R. Fearing.

Jap Advisory Group Finds War 'Pressing'

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Two pre-war cabinet ministers and a one-time commander-in-chief of the combined Japanese fleet were included in the 12 men named by Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso as a cabinet advisory group, the Japanese radio said today.

The group was named because "the war situation has grown more pressing than ever."

"Well, she's mine, too," said the recruit.

The boys, Jesse and Walt Hadwin, of Furman, N. C., hadn't met for many years.

Cranberry Price Up Cent a Pound

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Ceilings for fresh cranberries were increased today an average of $1 a barral over the nation by the OPA for the rest of the 1944 season. The change means an increase of about one cent a pound to the consumer.

The price rise was allowed, OPA said, because forecasts indicate the crop loss will run this year about 44 per cent of the normal yield. Earlier reports had indicated a smaller loss.

The adjustment in price is required under the agricultural disaster clause of the Stabilization Extension Act.

Second Chevalier To Be Launched

The second destroyer USS Chevalier of World War II will slide down the ways at Bath, Me., Iron Works tomorrow, carrying the name of a vessel sunk in the Solomon Islands area Oct. 6, 1943.

Like the first Chevalier, the new ship will be named in honor of the late Lt. Com. Godfrey de Courcelles Chevalier, USN, member of a prominent Medford family. His wife, Mrs. Marguerite Chevalier of Baltimore, will be the sponsor.

Sunday Paper Drives Listed

Sunday waste paper collection drives are scheduled tomorrow in Waltham, Westwood and South Lynnfield, officials of the Boston Newspaper Salvage Committee announced today.

The campaign in Waltham will be centered in the area south of Main st. to the Charles river. All of Westwood will be canvassed, and in South Lynnfield the pick-ups will be made by Boy Scouts.

The success of the drive by Boston shoppers to conserve paper by carrying parcels unwrapped has led the WPB to adopt the plan on a national scale, W. Thomas Hoyt, acting national director of the WPB salvage division, announced.

"It is impossible to over emphasize the need for paper salvage and paper conservation," Hoyt said. "The critical period will continue even after the war in Europe is successfully ended."

11-Month Birth Held Legitimate

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (INS)—Judge William J. Lindsay upheld the legitimacy of a baby born 11 months after his father, a merchant marine sailor, had left for overseas duty.

In his decision, Judge Lindsay dismissed the divorce bill brought by Jack Santucci, 24, against his wife, Evelyn, 18. The sailor charged he was not the father of the baby, Jack, Jr., born June 3.

The judge heard the opinions of several obstetrical experts and said:

"No one on the witness stand could completely eliminate the possibility that this man is the father. The human mind and intellect up to date can't judge on such delicate matters as life and birth."

Uncle Sam Gets Costello Bankroll

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — The State Supreme Court today had ruled that Frank Costello, self-described gambling machine operator, owner $27,200 in bills left in a taxicab June 11 and directed it be turned over to the Federal government to apply against an income tax lien of $28,911.66.

Justice Carroll Walter declared: "I cannot tolerate the idea that the police department may keep a citizen's property for no better reason than its own innuendo that perhaps the citizen acquired the property in a gambling transaction."

Under a local law, lost or seized funds unlawfully obtained are not returnable to the claimant.

Cambridge Native Gets Legion of Merit

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—A veteran of four American wars, Col. Thomas F. Brown was presented with the Legion of Merit award, highest honor that Congress can give a member of the armed forces for non-combatant service, at a ceremony on Governor's Island.

Col. Brown, born in Cambridge, Mass., served in the infantry in the Philippine Insurrection, and in the ordnance department in the Mexican Campaign, World War I, and World War II.

Norman Thomas Attacks Truman

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28 (AP)—Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate, said Sen. Truman, Democratic nominee for vice-president, would make the "worst President we've ever had" if it became necessary for him to take the Chief Executive's office.

He stated Truman "has never written a speech of his own account on any public issue of size" and characterized him as "a creature of one of the worst bosses in American history."

Picket-Line Voting Seen in CIO Move

By HOWARD RUSHMORE
Special to the Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—A gigantic, nation-wide mobilization of millions of union members to act as an unprecedented pressure group to influence Americans entering their polling places on election day.

A veritable cordon of poll watchers and canvassers covering strategic areas where the citizens of a democracy gather to determine the next President of the United States . . .

A frantic ringing of America's doorbells with tens of millions of leaflets, pamphlets and other pro-Roosevelt literature being shoved into the voter's hands . . .

That picture of a free nation voting on Nov. 7 for the candidate of its choice loomed as a possibility today.

Is this political pressure a new technique developed by such self-styled labor leaders as Earl Browder whose motley CIO groups are all-out for Sidney Hillman and the Political Action Committee?

Is this "American" campaign of labor in politics a plan that possibly might lead to picket lines around polling places to discourage timid voters of the organizations opposing the Democratic candidate?

Does Hillman, chairman of the Political Action Committee, ask this plan of influencing the votes?

In statements sent to — and used — in official CIO newspapers, Hillman and Philip Murray, president of the CIO, said in a full-page order:

"Every voter should be canvassed at least twice, once during the week before election day and again on election day."

Urging that each union local and unit appoint election day committees to canvass workers, Hillman and Murray added:

"Wherever possible, members of the election committee should arrange to take election day off to volunteer as poll watchers and canvassers and to man the union get-out-the-vote center."

Emphatic denials that any picket-line technique would be used at the polls by the CIO was made by Len Decaux, national publicity director of the organization, who acts as the official spokesman for Murray.

Each progressive step of the ROCK ISLAND LINES is part and parcel of the Program of Planned Progress inaugurated in 1937. Under this program is a solid foundation of fine railroading tradition reaching back 92 years . . . to 1852 when the ROCK ISLAND LINES were established.

Only upon such a foundation could such a Program be built.

With fine modern equipment and 8,000 miles of well-maintained right-of-way stretching through 14 middle western states, the war found this railroad system ready. It was equal to the kind of a wartime job which is justifying America's patronage and admiration.

In 1944 . . . still keeping ahead of its war job . . . ROCK ISLAND introduced a fleet of powerful, fast Diesel freight locomotives and a fleet of the latest type steam freight locomotives. Preliminary installations of radio communication between dispatcher, engineers and freight conductors were made. Centralized train control—the miracle of modern railroading—was proved and further developed.

ROCK ISLAND is continuing to move onward and upward . . . still planning. With the coming of peace, you will find ROCK ISLAND ready for that glorious era, too. As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

LONESOME RECRUIT

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT gained a vote for himself by making his speech before the Foreign Policy Association.

The voter, who declared his newly found allegiance two days after the address, is Sen. Joseph H. Ball, of Minnesota, the young Don Quixote of internationalism in the upper house of Congress.

There were some curious "reservations" attached to Senator Ball's declaration of allegiance.

According to a copyrighted dispatch of the United Press, the Senator continues to be a Republican while supporting the fourth-term campaign of the pseudo-Democratic Browder-Hillman axis.

The dispatch said:

"In supporting Mr. Roosevelt, the co-author of the Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill Peace Resolution will not renounce his party.

"He is an ardent Republican and A FOE OF WHAT HE CALLS BUREAUCRATIC BUNGLING ON THE HOME FRONT BY THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION."

IN THIS dual exploit Senator Ball really outrivals Don Quixote.

The foolish old knight of La Mancha rode only one horse, in one direction.

Senator Ball endeavors to bestride TWO horses, going in opposite ways.

The point on which Mr. Roosevelt gathered in Senator Ball's solitary backing arose in the President's demand not only that the United States become associated in a world-peace organization—an ideal which Governor Dewey has advocated—but furthermore that an American representative, whom the President would appoint, be given ADVANCE AUTHORITY to direct our armed forces into war WITHOUT THE SPECIFIC ASSENT OF CONGRESS.

This would be a delegation of congressional power to the Executive far exceeding those domestic delegations by which the New Deal now plunders the Treasury and regiments the people. The idea may not get far, however.

It is not even a part of the Dumbarton Oaks plan, so far as that plan has been divulged.

AT DUMBARTON OAKS, indeed, it was rather mildly proposed that a member of the projected "Big Four" council should, if accused of aggression, be debarred from voting on the use of "sanctions" against itself.

Soviet Russia rejected the proposal, thus reserving the "right" to veto military action against an "aggressive" Russia.

Until that little difference of opinion is adjusted—and it is doubtful if Soviet Russia will accede—there remains very little likelihood that an American Congress will vote TO SET ASIDE THE CONSTITUTION ENTIRELY and to CREATE AN AMERICAN COMMISSAR OF FOREIGN WARS.

CONFUSING

MASSACHUSETTS voters will be asked on November 7 to transfer much of the Governor's authority over pardons to the Legislature. The request appears as Referendum No. 2 on the ballot.

Due to its ambiguous phraseology, the question may confuse many persons, particularly those who read it for the first time in polling booths.

Their decision would be much easier if the proposition had been worded more simply, such as: "Shall we remove the gates and bars at State Prison and install a set of revolving doors?"

That is probably what will happen eventually if too many persons make the serious mistake of favoring Referendum No. 2 and voting "yes."

"HOW ABOUT some poems for us middle-aged married sweethearts?" asks a Portland, Ore., subscriber. Above is an excerpt from one of the best poems on that subject . . . A man who smokes a cigar in a holder doesn't deserve to have the privilege of smoking a good cigar. I have said that several times and it is still my story. However, a situation has arisen which requires explanation. Recently said I asked a blonde at a party if she minded my smoking a cigar and she replied: "No, but do you have to chew it?" My girl friend said this was highly constructive criticism. Therefore, I gathered that she, too, objected to the chewing of cigars. Now I figure when you take your wife to dinner, to a night club, or sporting event she is your guest. The perfect host always respects the likes and dislikes of his guests. Therefore, if you see me in a public place with a charming, vivacious brunette and I am smoking a cigar in a holder do not jump to the conclusion I approve of treating a good cigar that way. It is just to prevent my chewing it. I am merely trying to be a perfect host

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What was the date of the closing of the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach? A—you have me stopped, sir. But you have awakened memories. When a kid I dreamed of the day I would grow up and take my girl to the Brighton Beach race track in the afternoon and then with the money I had won from the bookies I would take her to the Oriental Hotel at Manhattan Beach for dinner. But when I became a man both these places were no longer in existence.

HUSBANDS, ETC: If your husband doesn't like stew and objects to it you can serve it anyhow, but give it a fancy name. Instead of saying: "We have stew for dinner," say: "Darling, I have made some nice blanquette de veau for you." If you handle it that way your husband will consume the stew and love it and think you as wonderful as Hedy Lamarr. So states an expert of the American Dietitians' Association. The expert is not married.

PASSING BY: Mady Christians. Brilliant actress. Born in Vienna but been in this country a long time. Her father was manager of Manhattan's celebrated Irving Place Theater when it presented German language plays exclusively. It later became a burlesque house. It was at the Irving Place that Gypsy Rose Lee made her first New York hit singing that ditty titled "Ida, the Bashful Sturgeon."

ASIDES: Ever see a woman wearing a widow's ring? Neither have I but a New Yorker writes: "A widow's ring is a gold ring inlaid with black enamel. I have been wearing such a ring for three years" . . . A Pittsburgher states: "My wife is a baseball expert. Says she will bet you a stogie you can't stump her with a baseball question as to the rules of the game. How about it?" (Note—Bet accepted. Three on base. Batter hits a line drive over second. The ball hits the base umpire who is standing behind second base. What is the correct decision on this play? How is it scored?)

SAYS SHE: Excerpt from communication received from a young woman who is now a resident of Manhattan: "I am a Mexican-French girl from the Texas side of the border. I have black eyes, black hair and am 5 feet 7½ inches tall, and my name is Lolita. I am the girl who wrote you once before saying that instead of a cigarette I liked a good cigar after dinner. I am still having my after-dinner cigar and enjoying it. A cigar is more soothing than a cigarette."

BIRTH RATE: English government officials continue to view their country's low birth rate with alarm. Recently one old boy stated every English mother should have at least five children. The birth rate of England has always been low. Yet the natives of the tight little isle have managed to dominate a large part of the world. Birth rate alarmists should give a thought to the question of quality rather than quantity. The rabbit said to the lioness: "I have many children in a year while you have one." Answered the lioness: "It is true. Still, though I have but one, he is a lion."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—It looks as if we may have to close membership in the HIMS, or Harold Is Mine Society. We are being swamped with applications.

This organization, as you know, is comprised of those who claim to have seen Secretary of the Interior Ickes first and therefore possess original squatters' rights.

Harold Ickes

Only persons who can show they have squatted on Ickes at some time are eligible.

A number of unsubstantiated claims, such as those of Mr. Westbrook Pegler and Mr. Paul Mallon, have been received but are still under consideration.

In fact, we may have to rule Pegler out altogether. He is too mild and pussyfooting.

I might say at this time that the HIMS has received inside advices that Secretary Ickes does not like his middle name, which is "LeClair." Therefore, by a 3-to-1 vote, to which Justice Frankfurter may dissent if he chooses, we decided at our last meeting to always call him "LeClair" henceforward.

"Hi ya, LeClair, Old Bear?"

The mailman is getting bowlegged from lugging the applications. And now—to make it even more complicated—we have suggestions that the HIMS be opened to those who claim belting rights to New York's Mayor LaGuardia.

ONE WHO wishes the little nasturtium added is Mr. Jack Lait, the eminent editor of the New York Mirror.

Mr. Lait communicates as follows:

"Dear George: Where do a couple of juvenile delinquents like you and Pegler horn in, squabbling over the punching-bag rights to Happy Harold Ickes?

"He is MINE—and was when you two were nasty little nuisances in high chairs.

"I was a young reporter in Chicago when Pat Hal was our village scold and perennial third party.

"He was a desk room lawyer who thought up candidates to enter against Bathhouse John. And with some success.

"Once his man was nosed out by only 71,819 to 41.

"The paper I worked for always had a candidate, too. And we could always lick Ickes. Even if ours ran second, you could depend on Ickes' dark horse coming in third.

"He played with Socialists, Populists, Democrats, Republicans—any protean political hedge-hopper who at that time did not belong to the party he belonged to at that time.

"Ickes was a Republican when he came out for FDR, whom he supported when he found out he was a Democrat.

"IN THAT he reminds me of our New York city mayor, also a Republican, who goes in up to his hat for anybody who isn't a Republican, mostly Marcantonio.

"He plays with Socialists, Liberals, Communists, the A. L. P., the C. I. O., the P. A. C. and something of his own invention, the Con-Fusion Party, which is a combination of all the mavericks and mugwumps in our hetrogeneous metropolis.

"The Little Lilac and Ickes are alike in another way—they see red when they see newspapermen.

"We reciprocate the divine passion.

"We have one sure-fire way of getting even with them. We quote them accurately, verbatim. That's dirty pool, but we can't let you write all the comedy in the paper.

"They share one more extraordinary mutual coincidence—they are both what you might call 'general specialists'—that means they know more about everything than anybody else knows about anything.

"They say Lug is to be a brigadier and is going to Italy to tell the Republicans why they should vote Democratic and hate gin rummy.

"As some Fascist, Isolationist, reactionary Royalist said, he's going to wear a star where he always wore a chip.

"We hope nothing upsets his plan and wish him a safe one-way passage.

"I don't know the Flower as long or as well as I know the Curmudgeon. I don't claim him. But say, are you and Peg in the Commie conspiracy, too—to confiscate private property?"

I TAKE IT that Mr. Lait's last question is purely rhetorical, so I am not answering it.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 28—When is a Western not a Western? Answer is, when it's Sol Lesser's $2,500,000 technicolor special, "The Silver Flame." Here is a story that begins in Virginia City's famous silver rush, but spreads to New York, San Francisco, Paris and South America, telling the saga of the four international fortunes that came out of the Comstock lode and the effect of great wealth on the families of the silver tycoons.

Barbara Stanwyck

Not only will Lesser's movie bring to life the famous old Crystal Palace saloon, but such famous landmarks as the Palace Hotel and the Flood building (financed by silver fortunes) will be faithfully duplicated in all their gusty color. Wishing isn't always getting, but Sol wants Barbara Stanwyck for the role of the Virginia City lady of, shall we say, questionable standards, who becomes a power behind the throne.

HOLLYWOOD MIGHT as well face it. The movie competition from every country after the war is going to be terrific. If this war has proved any outstanding fact in the entertainment world it is that pictures are the top morale and propaganda agencies. Canada isn't waiting for VE-Day to get the ball rolling. John Farrow has been made a sensational offer from Vancouver interests to head a motion picture company. Johnny, who was in the Canadian Navy before being put on the inactive list, is very popular with our neighbors.

HEDY LEMARR makes one more picture for M-G-M before retiring to await the stork in June. She'll do "Her Highness and the Bellboy," with Robert Walker and June Allyson, with Hedy playing Her Nibs (formerly rumored for Garbo). Meantime, she and John Loder have made a list of 30 names for the expected heir. Their favorite is "Victoria" if it turns out to be a Miss Loder; and Victor in case of a boy.

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: The Michael O'Sheas celebrate their 18th wedding anniversary apart. Anatole Litvak is in this country—New York; two of the honeys in "Earl Carroll Vanities" (the movie) are planning a double wedding. Beverly Reed will become Mrs. Robert McRillhard and Melba Anstead has said "yes" to Ensign I. J. Donahue, Jr; Lana Turner's tossing a kid party today with guests invited to romp in rompers; $300,000 is a lot of money, but Clark Gable turned down that much in radio offers since getting out of the Air Force; you-think-you-have-troubles department: Eleanor Parker, who enters Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for an appendectomy, sprained her ankle and goes in on crutches; the night Hazel Brooks married Cedric Gibbons they were too early for their appointment with Judge Holland, so they went across the street to see "Going My Way." THE INFLUENCE which Frank Fay's starring show, "Harvey," is having already on our Boston theater-goers may be the tipoff to one basic cause for the play's certain smashing success in New York . . . In "Harvey," there is a mythical character from the animal (brute) kingdom that exists first in the mind of Frank Fay's role, and later becomes a minor fixation with sundry other creations of Author Mary Chase's able mind . . . The character is a rabbit, 6 feet 2 inches in height named "Harvey" . . . Wherever Mr. Fay travels, so goes "Harvey."

A NEW GLAMOUR NOTE is this gold cord caught with one crown on the hat and looped to the left where it is secured with a pair of larger crowns . . . as regal as the crowning chapeau of golden brown . . . styled to wear with the new smooth-topped hairdress. If you would be disarmingly feminine dress up any costume with a piece of thrilling jewelry. Warner Starlet Eve Arden poses.—R. M.

WHETHER THEY are the family heirlooms, or moderately-priced copies, jewelry must be worn with savoir faire . . . with assurance as though they were the fabulous crown jewels.

Earrings are still an important item of jewelry for every smart woman . . . and the bigger the better for chic. A stunning new note is the use of long gold chains wound round the throat and caught at varying lengths with scatter pins . . . or used as an eye-catching connecting link between matching costume pieces on hat and coat . . . as pictured on the page. Bracelets, too, are all-important . . . but they must look real.

The recent New York showing of the Castlecliff collection marked the return of lovely and important costume jewelry . . . and also launched new trends inspired by the war shortage of metal. The use of sterling silver in place of base metal has given rise to finer handling and more delicate workmanship . . . which, according to creator Clifford Furst, will never slip back to big flat surfaces and "hunky" feeling formerly found in costume jewelry.

SCATTER JEWELS

The cute and amusing jewelry is conspicuously absent . . . though there is a great deal of frankly sentimental-feeling pieces. Scatter jewels . . . small and dainty pins in the shape of flower sprays, crowns, stone-centered star flowers, fleur de lis . . . or bow knots designed to be worn in groups of three or four on the bosom of a suit or dress . . . or edging a deep neckline . . . highlight this collection.

Also important is the oval or round high collar brooch reflecting the strong trend in necklines . . . dog collars of pearls with brilliant rondels . . . and dog collars of ribbon with one or several medallion pins in the front and fastened with a gold hook are decidedly of the moment.

The large pin . . . suggesting a royal decoration . . . is being worn by many smart women on cockades, V-shaped neckbands or "ambassador's ribbons" from shoulder to waistline. The most striking thing of the new jewelry is the impress of everything-precious-but-the-stones. Exquisite open work, gleaming smooth surfaces often paved with tiny brilliants and flat ribbon effects . . . all new to costume jewelry, have revived the early 19th century era of begemmed elegance.

DON'T LOOK ARTY, LOOK REAL with a Lovely Lady softness that's beguiling and bewitching . . . and match it with some piece of jewelry that is yours and yours alone . . . the entire interest of your costume . . . the dramatic counterpart of facial expression . . . like this frankly sentimental heart brooch made of bands intertwined as gracefully as ribbon and the delicate cabochon gold band earrings.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

BOSTON, Friday—On Thursday I found the homemakers show in New York very interesting, as I always do. Like most women, anything that has to do with a home fascinates me, and I could have spent a long time just looking around.

I was due, however, at a meeting of the Hillel Foundation of City College uptown, where I was to speak and answer questions. These meetings with young people always seem to me valuable. The question period seems most essential, for without it one might easily not get at the things that are primarily on the minds of the young people today.

IN THE AFTERNOON I returned to my apartment to see Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Benjamin of Los Angeles, our eldest son's friends as well as mine, who happen to be in New York city. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robinson came in to play for me some of his campaign compositions, which all of us enjoyed. Mr. Robinson, you will remember, is the composer of "Ballad for Americans."

Early in the evening I went to the Needle Trades High School to address Local 142 of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. My address was made in response to the request of my old friend, Miss Rose Schneiderman.

AFTER A BITE of supper, I took the midnight train to Boston. Here I am having a comfortable breakfast and preparing to leave at 11:30 with a group of young people representing the Boston United States Student Assembly. This group is organized in several colleges here, and a joint meeting is being held today at Simmons College. The subject is "The Returning Serviceman and His Problems."

There is an increasing interest among all young people, I think, in what their responsibilities will be in meeting this situation, which they know is bound to be a difficult one when men come home in increasing numbers from the far corners of the world.

At 4 o'clock I am catching a train to go and visit one of our grandsons at school. Tomorrow I shall return in the afternoon and take a train to Saybrook, Ct., where I will visit an old friend.

Judge for Yourself

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—I'm a girl of 18 and in love with a boy who is also in love with me. He lives out of town, and his friends tell him I'm too good for him, and my friends say I can do better than go with a boy of his type.

He hasn't been to see me now for four weeks, and I'm wondering if I should call him up or go to see him, or write him a letter asking why he doesn't come over. B. J. S.

As the boy hasn't been to see you for four weeks, it seems to me you'd have to swallow a good deal of pride to go to see him, call him up, or write him a letter asking him what is the matter. If a girl does any of these things when she's been neglected, it puts her in the doormat class.

At the same time, it's just as well to make up your own mind about your friends. Don't be swayed by "they say"; be your own judge.

Choice Apple-Peanut Recipes

By MARTHA LEE

FOR GENERATIONS, barrels of apples have had their place in American homes, given their cidery aroma to farm sheds and city pantries alike. Everywhere, they have been the old reliable for dessert treats—have helped good cooks sustain their titles.

Apple pie, apple cake, baked apples, apple turnovers, applesauce—the list is endless. Everyone has his favorite of favorites, but no one wants to give up any one of the others, either. And a new apple treat always finds a welcome.

Well, this is apple month. The crop is plentiful, too. So why not get on the bandwagon with a couple of new numbers along with the old ones—Peanut Apple Pudding and Peanut Butter Betty. Both combine apples with protein-packed peanut butter — a combination that's hard to beat.

PEANUT APPLE CRUMB PUDDING

½ cup sifted flour
½ cup sugar
½ tsp. allspice
6 cups sliced apples
¼ cup peanut butter
2 tbsp. shortening
¼ cup chopped peanuts

Sift together flour, sugar and allspice. Then cut in peanut butter and shortening until mixture has a crumb-like appearance. Toss in the peanuts. Place the apples in a 1½ quart casserole and top with crumb mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 45 minutes or until apples are cooked. Serve with sour cream, if desired. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

PEANUT BUTTER BETTY

½ cup shortening
6 tbsp. peanut butter
6 slices bread
2 cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ tsp. salt
½ cup chopped apples

Cream together shortening and peanut butter. Spread on bread slices. Cut in cubes and place in 1½ quart casserole. Stir milk into eggs, add salt, ½ cup sugar and apples. Then pour over bread cubes. Sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup sugar. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 1 hour. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

APPLE-PEANUT DELIGHT

6 apples.
½ cup water.
2-3 cup flour.
1 cup sugar.
1-3 cup butter or margarine.
¼ cup peanut butter.
1 tsp. spices (optional).

Peel and slice apples. Arrange in a buttered baking dish. Add water. Combine other ingredients. Blend until a crumbly mass. Spread over the apples. Cook in a 375 deg. F. oven for 45 to 60 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Variation: red cherries, peaches, apricots may be substituted for the apples in this recipe. Use to to 3 cups of fruits.

APPLE PUDDING

6 cups sliced, peeled tart apples
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup softened butter or margarine
½ tsp. nutmeg
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 tsp. cinnamon

Place 2 cups of the apples in greased 1½ quart casserole. Sprinkle with 1-3 of the granulated sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg combined; then repeat apple and sugar-mixture layers until all is used. Combine remaining ingredients, and pat out on waxed paper to form sheet exact size of casserole top. Lift up waxed paper, and invert mixture on casserole. Bake, uncovered, in moderate oven of 350 deg. F. for 1 hour, or until apples are tender. Serve with cream. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Emily Bannard Weds Today

By BETTY ALDEN

MRS. WALLACE LINCOLN PIERCE of Brookline and her little daughters, Mary Markle Pierce and Patricia Stillman Pierce, are members of the wedding party at the marriage of her sister, Emily Alexander Bannard, to A. Lindsay Thomson in St. James Church, New York, this afternoon.

Mrs. Pierce is matron of honor and her children the flower girls. Lt. Pierce, USNR, is overseas and unable to be an usher as originally hoped.

Daughter of Mrs. Markle Bannard of Park ave, and Wm. N. Bannard of Wilmington, Del., the bride is being given in marriage by her brother, Lt. (jg) W. N. Bannard, Jr., USNR, of Newport. Mrs. Bannard, Jr., is a bridesmaid together with Jean Thomson, Sally Ingersoll and Mrs. Frederick Worden.

The bride is wearing a rose point veil with her duchess lace trimmed ivory satin gown and carrying gardenias. Her attendants are in aqua taffeta with matching veiled headdresses and bouquets of token roses. The flower girls are carrying rosebuds and delphinium with their white organdie frocks.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Thomson of Hartford, is having his father as best man. Mrs. Bannard is receiving in a navy ensemble with powder blue gloves and hat, sable cape and orchids, and Mrs. Thomson in green with a mink muff and bronze orchids.

After a reception at the New York Junior League the couple will honeymoon at Sea Island, Ga., and they will be at home in Hartford after Nov. 15. The bride made her debut at the New York Assembly last winter, graduated from Westover and was in the class of '46 at Vassar. Mr. Thomson, a Williams '37 alumnus, received his Master of Science degree from M. I. T. in 1939.

RENEAR-HOWELL

Post deb Elizabeth "Lee" Howell, daughter of Mrs. Russell Howell of Louisburg sq., became the bride of Rev. Miles Renear, son of Mr. Leland W. Renear of Martha's Vineyard, at an 11 a. m. ceremony today in the Church of the Advent. Rev. Whitney Hale, assisted by Rev. Alfred Pedersen, officiated.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Richard M. Russell, the bride wore ivory brocade and carried a prayer book with stephanotis markers. Her sister, Mrs. Henry W. Locke, was matron of honor and three cousins, Margaret Russell, Josephine Kidder and Grace Cheney, the bridesmaids. Mrs. Locke wore gold faille with a velvet headband and matching veil and carried gold and white roses. The bridesmaids were in blue faille with bouquets of deep red and gold chrysanthemums.

Beacon's New Bill

"Days of Glory," RKO Radio's screen drama costarring Gregory Peck and Tamara Toumanova, is on at the Beacon screen tomorrow for a four-day run. The co-feature is "Sensations of 1945."

NOW IN its sixth month on the Majestic Theater screen, "The Song of Bernadette" continues to draw back to the theater again and again those who have seen it. As you know, Jennifer Jones plays the role . . . and beautifully, of the peasant girl of Lourdes.

New Attractions for Fans

Beethoven's overture to "Egmont" and the same composer's Seventh Symphony in A Major will be given under Serge Koussevitzky's direction at the fifth pair of Symphony Hall concerts in the regular series next Friday afternoon and Saturday evening. The second part of the concert will consist of the Sixth Symphony by Dmitri Shostakovitch.

A Halloween celebration, with free cider and doughnuts, apple-eating contests, costume prizes and passes for lucky ticket holders, will be an added feature of next Tuesday evening's State Theater show.

The Texans, in Western capers; Brett and Sylvia, who interpolate their songs with comedy; Tommy Oliver, singing master of ceremonies; Harlem's comic Spivey and Adams, the acrobatic Morris and Morris and MacDermson and Co., comedians, make up tomorrow's 1-10-11 p. m. vaudeville bill at the Globe.

First 200 women arriving at Loew's State and Orpheum Theaters for Monday's opening showing of "An American Romance," Metro's mighty Technicolor production starring Brian Donlevy, will receive an autographed photograph of the picture star.

An attention-getter, this bit of feminine frivolity. A crocheted apron in simple pattern stitch, finished with a crocheted ruffle. Pattern 541 contains crochet directions for apron; stitches.

This pattern, together with a needlework pattern for personal or household decoration, 15 cents. Send coins to Boston Evening American, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth ave., New York 11, N. Y.

Fifteen cents more brings you our new 1945 Needlecraft Catalogue . . . 95 illustrations of designs for embroidery, toys, knitting, crochet, quilts, handicraft . . . a free doll pattern printed right in catalogue.

Arlington JVA to Fete Vets in Hospital

Sunday, Nov. 12, is a date brightly marked on the calendars of Junior Victory Army members in Arlington.

That's the day they're going to the Veterans' Hospital in Bedford to show the boys what the JVA Wildcat Corps has been doing this past year to help the war effort, and to give them the playing cards, books and magazines they've been collecting.

Henry E. Keenan, leader of the JVA and 4H groups, reports that donations for the veterans have been pouring into headquarters at 901 Massachusetts ave. He's had calls from many public-spirited people outside Arlington, too, who want to give something to the veterans.

A call to him at Ari. 2490 will bring a JVA representative to your home for a collection, if the distance is not too great.

Wildcat JVA boys and girls went way over the top on the recent milkweed pod collection campaign for the Navy. They gathered more than 250,000 pods.

Three highest collectors were Robert Belliveau, Ann Morris and Ralph Hatch, who were presented with a $25 War Bond, $10 in war stamps, and $5 in war stamps, respectively, at a special assembly in Jr. High East on Thursday.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 22R, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Sunday's Advertiser.

McDaniels, Doyle Win; Tordiglione Sensation

By JACK CONWAY

JIMMY McDANIELS, California welterweight, had to have an opponent for his Boston debut, and it was decided that Billy Tordiglione of the North End could do the job in the absence of a big name fighter.

Billy was on the short end of 10 to 1 betting, and it was expected he would be knocked out inside of five rounds.

Bill Tordiglione

Everyone but Tordiglione and his trainer, "Coogie" McFarland, held this opinion. They had other plans for McDaniels.

Tordiglione lost the decision of Referee Tommy Rawson and Judges Joe Blumsack and Jim Shaunessy at the end of 10 hectic rounds, but he gained more fistic fame than he has during his entire career. It was because Tordiglione carried the battle to his highly rated opponent in the first part of the battle, got up off the floor on two different occasions in the seventh round and rallied gallantly in the last two chapters when he was hopelessly beaten.

In the first and second rounds, the North End welterweight gave the 3326 cash customers intense action. He tossed left and right hand punches to the jaw and body with great fury, and refused to take a single step backwards.

McDaniels accepted Tordiglione's challenge and drove crashing punches to the body.

The decision in favor of McDaniels was the proper one as he won every round but the first two. I gave these sessions to the North End battler. Tordiglione, however, proved he has what it takes to make a good fighter, and he was cheered wildly at the end of each round.

Up From Canvas Twice

TWICE IN the seventh round, Tordiglione got up off the canvas after taking counts of nine. McDaniels shifted his attack from the body and dropped his opponent with hard blows to the jaw.

As Tordiglione started to go down for the second time, he let fly with a right hand punch which was short. He then fell forward on the canvas, but at the count of nine he was on his feet fighting back.

The Tordiglione rallies in the ninth and tenth rounds were the result of courage rather than of any physical reserve. These rallies lasted for ten to 20 seconds and made it necessary for McDaniels to open up with everything he had to retain command.

Tordiglione suffered a bad cut over his left eye half way through the bout, and this injury retarded his work. Both boxers weighed 147 pounds.

Doyle Wins Bout

JIMMY DOYLE of California, weighing 144 pounds, outscored Henry Jordan of Philadelphia who scaled 146 pounds. It was a hard bout with Doyle's superior boxing skill and speed giving him the unanimous decision of the officials.

Doyle is a classy looking boxer. He has a fine left hand, hits sharply with his right, and is very nimble on his feet. He is only 19 years of age and he should develop into a topflight welterweight.

Paul Doyle, former welterweight star who was managed by Tony Palazolo, pilot of Jimmy Doyle, was introduced from the ring and was given a big hand.

"Doyle is a much better fighter than he looked winning from Jordan," Paul told me after the bout.

"I think Jimmy was down a bit too fine for Jordan, and this explains why he didn't knock him out. He lacked the extra fire in his right-hand needed for a kayo.

"The young Californian is a finished boxer, can hit, is an excellent ring general and looks as if he is headed for the welterweight championship of the world."

The crowd of 3326 paid $6417 to see the show. The net gate was $4233. The Goodwin Club lost $1500 on its promotion, but Matchmaker "Rip" Valenti had the satisfaction of putting on one of the most stirring ring shows staged in Boston for a long time.

McDaniels and Doyle clicked in our ring parlay, but it was Billy Tordiglione who furnished the big thrills.

Navy Scores On Quick Kick

PHILADELPHIA Oct. 28 (AP) —Twice-beaten Navy and unbeaten, untied Pennsylvania tangled today on Franklin Field in brilliant sunshine. Every one of the stadium's 73,000 seats was occupied.

FIRST PERIOD

A 74-yard kick by Navy's Scott that rolled out of bounds on the Penn 11 set up a quick Middie touchdown. Edenborn's attempted kick-out squirted off his foot and went only 10 yards. Navy counted in five plays, Jenkins making 10 yards in one blast and Scott carrying it over from the two. Finos missed the kick.

Score: Navy 6, Penn 0.

Navy was only a yard away from a second touchdown as the first quarter ended after marching 62 yards after receiving a Penn punt that went only 20 yards. Jenkins and Scott collaborated in covering the distance. Navy didn't try a pass.

Score: Navy 6, Penn 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Jenkins' lateral to Scott was completed but the play lost a yard and Penn took over, punting to the 43-yard line on the first play.

Hamberg came in and the Middies moved to the 35 before the same player lost seven and Navy was forced to punt and Penn then moved to its own 40 on a pair of aerials.

Penn moved all the way to the Navy 30 late in the period on a 24-yard aerial from Sica to Helman. A penalty, however, halted the march there and the Quakers were forced to kick.

The teams were at midfield as the period ended.

Score: Navy 6, Penn 0.

Injuries Worry Unbeaten Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28 (AP) —Ohio State's Bucks, worried by injuries to several key linemen, sought their fifth straight football victory of the season today against Minnesota's Gophers. The game was expected to attract between 50,000 and 55,000 spectators.

Dr. George Hauser, Minnesota coach, also listed several of his first stringers as ailing. On the basis of Hauser's reports, and those from Coach Carroll Widdoes of Ohio State, it looked like a battle of cripples.

Everett Faces Medford

By JOHN AHERN

GILLIS STADIUM, Medford—A fighting Everett team, seeking its third victory of the season and its second straight over Medford, was heavily favored to swamp the Mustangs here this afternoon. Coach Denny Gildea had two teams intact, one to take over on the defense and the other to do all the rushing and ball-handling.

Coach Eddie Pidgeon of Medford wasn't as fortunate. The Mustang squad has been hit by injuries and was forced to start several substitutes.

The field was wet and sloppy and the cold snap made ball handling difficult. The weather kept the crowd down to approximately 5000.

Everett won the toss and elected to kick to Medford.

FIRST PERIOD

Everett kicked to Medford and after two plays the home team kicked right back and Everett started to march. Conrad Pensavale carried three times from the Medford 40 to the 15. Medford held for downs here and kicked right out. Everett kicked back and Johnny Cannava lugged the boot from his 10 to the 31. Gerardi went for a first down around right end but Everett held and Coppinger went back to kick. Tom Supple smashed through and blocked it on the 30 and recovered on the 11 to put Everett in scoring position.

Score: Everett 0, Medford 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Two plays were all that Everett needed to score. On the first Jake Horowitz bucked center for a yard and then Conrad Pensavale skirted right end on a reverse for the remaining distance. The pass for conversion was too high.

After an exchange of kicks Medford had the ball on its 40 and Pete Gerardi went back to kick out but the pass from center came back on the ground and the whole Everett team piled on and took the ball on the 29.

On the first play Horowitz dropped back and passed to Pensavale on the 15 and he went down the side line from there for his second touchdown. Fazzioli came in and kicked the point.

Score: Everett 13, Medford 0.

THIRD PERIOD

Medford rooters had a chance to exercise their lungs in this quarter as twice the Mustangs got going. The first time Jim Roach picked up an Everett fumble on his own 38 and lugged it back to the Everett 38, but that's as far as it went because the Mustangs couldn't muster an offense.

Later a Medford punt was blocked and Frank Decicco was right on it and traveled 40 yards for a touchdown only to find that the play was nullified by a clipping penalty—the first miscue in the game.

Score: Everett 12, Medford 0.

FOURTH PERIOD

Medford staged another short spurt and Cannava raced down to the Everett 20 but was stopped there. Everett took over and both teams just exchanged kicks for the rest of the game.

Final: Everett 12, Medford 0.

BC in Seesaw Game

hand being laid on him. Baysinger's try for the extra point failed.

Score—Syracuse 12, B. C. 6.

Syracuse threatened again late in the period. Englert of B. C. had a kick partially blocked and Dolan of Syracuse took it to the B. C. 44. Dolan raced to the B. C. 30 but the play was called back.

Consentino, on a double reverse, immediately made up the yardage, and Dolan swept end to the B. C. 22 with a half-minute to go. But Baysinger's pass was intercepted by Englert as the period ended.

Score—Syracuse 12, Boston College 6.

THIRD PERIOD

Syracuse kicked off, and Reardon grabbed the ball on the hop on the 25, carried to the 42. Immediately Walsh shot through the line on a quick opener, cut to the sideline and ran 33 yards to the Syracuse 25.

Carney and Elliott again made it first down on the 13. Elliott carried to the 7, Carney to the 5, Elliott to the 3 just short of a first down.

On fourth down an Englert-to-Elliott flip resulted in a fumble, and Hilsinger recovered for Syracuse on the 10. Thus, a 57-yard B. C. march ended abruptly.

Buchsbaum carried twice to the 24 for a first down. B. C. held, and Baysinger punted to Englert on the B. C. 24.

B. C. was forced to punt and Syracuse, with Marv Cohen starring, carried from the 18 to the 43. B. C. braced and Syracuse punted outside on the B. C. 25. Here B. C. sent in Owens at quarter, Carney at halfback.

After Reardon picked up two yards, Owens reeled back from his 32, passed successfully to Carney at midfield, and the latter, a sprinter, raced 50 yards for the tying touchdown. Brendan Conway went into kick the point and did so. So B. C. led for the first time in the game.

Score: Boston College 13, Syracuse 12.

With three minutes to go in the period, Reardon of B. C. recovered a Syracuse fumble on the Syracuse 30. A moment later, the sharp-shooting Owens passed to Bowdring, who raced all the way to the Syracuse 3 for a first down.

The pass wiped out 26 yards and B. C. was so happy Elliott shot over for B. C.'s third touchdown. Conway's attempted conversion failed.

In its own backyard, pressed in its own backyard pressed punter Baysinger so hard he booted outside on his won 37, where B. C. took over. Owens slipped trying to pass and was downed on Syracuse's 46 as the third period ended.

Score—Boston College 19, Syracuse 12.

FOURTH PERIOD

Owens was smothered trying to pass and B. C. was pushed back to its own 43. Walsh punted to Syracuse's 25. Here Buchsbaum started a personal parade downfield, carrying to the 34, then to midfield for a first down.

Here B. C. buckled down to business and force dSyracuse to punt to Walsh at his own 22. B. C. was detected clipping as Reardon swept end, and B. C. was set back to their own seven.

Then Walsh got off a three-yard punt which went outside on his own 10, and Syracuse had a first down, goal to go.

This was Syracuse's best break of the game. Two line bucks gained little but Cosentino, on a reverse, carried to the 2. Buchsbaum tried to hit center for the T. D. but the B. C. line hurled him back and took the ball on downs on its own one-yard line.

Lawler of B. C. was injured on the play and was carried from the field. Englert went in to punt for B. C. and his kick carried to the Syracuse 44.

Purdue, Michigan Big Ten Classic

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 28 (AP) — Purdue's high scoring Boilermakers, averaging four touchdowns a game against five opponents, squared off today against Michigan in a Big Ten football clash rated as "crucial" in Western Conference title hopes of both teams.

Six Purdue players and at least three Michigan performers, completing Navy V-12 and Marine training courses this week, were playing their last collegiate game before reporting to service bases for further training.

40,000 See Army, Duke Grid Clash

NEW YORK (AP)—The high-scoring but still untested Army football team faced its first serious opposition of the season today when it met the Blue Devils of Duke before a near-sellout crowd of 40,000 at the Polo Grounds.

Although Duke's won-and-lost record was unimpressive as compared to Army's four straight lopsided victories, the North Carolinians had impressed watchers as being a strong defensive team, possibly capable of checking Army's array of star backs. The Duke offense was strengthened somewhat by the return of George Balitsaris to fullback.

FIRST PERIOD

Duke muffed two scoring chances in the first five minutes. After Raether covered Minor's fumble on the Army 29, Duke tried a long pass and Hall intercepted it on the one. Army kicked and Kennara went around his right end 24 yards to the Cadet 11.

Here the Duke attack again stalled and Army got going on a 24-yard run by Hall and reached Duke's 44 before Carver intercepted a long Kenna pass on the 22.

Neither team could make any consistent gains and a long kick by Tom Davis forced the Cadets to play in their own territory for the remainder of the period. In the final minute of the quarter, Tom Davis' short kick went out on the Army 32 and then Hall went around end for a first down.

Score—Duke 0, Army 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Army substituted an entire new team. A Lombardo to Blanchard pass was good for ten yards, then Glenn Davis broke through a big hole at his own right tackle, eluded one tackler with a change of pace and sprinted 53 yards for a touchdown.

Walterhouse missed the extra point and Army led 6-0. Midway in the period Duke's stalled attack began to move when Clark picked up 20 yards on two end runs but the Blue Devils bogged down again at midfield.

Jones smashed through on the 48 to block a kick by Walterhouse and the ball bounced clear back to the 12 where Kerns finally recovered for Duke. The Blue Devils were tossed back to the 24 but Tom Davis heaved a long pass which Carver caught on the two-yard line. Two plays later Davis went three yards over his right tackle for a score. Raether kicked the point to give Duke a 7-6 lead. Neither team could gain during the remainder of the half.

Score: Duke 7, Army 6.

THIRD PERIOD

Army's starting lineup returned to open the second half. The Cadets needed about 3½ minutes to score. Minor's 15-yard run and a Duke penalty for drawing Army offside gave the Cadets a first down on the 27 and Hall went around right end to score. Walterhouse kicked the point and Army led 13-7. Set back to their own 26 by a long Tom Davis kick and a clipping penalty, Army started moving again on two good runs by Blanchard.

The Cadets continued their uninterrupted march 74 yards for a touchdown, piling up five first downs enroute. Minor went the last four yards around end for the score after he, Hall and Blanchard had taken turns lugging the ball down the field without the aid of passes. Walterhouse added the point and Army led 20-7.

Poole blocked Duke's kick on the Blue Devils' 45 and Coulter picked up the ball and got to the 24 before he was downed just as the quarter ended.

Score: Army 20, Duke 7.

SUBMARINE BASE WINS

GROTON (AP) — With Ezra Ormsbee scoring both touchdowns, the Submarine Base football team blanked the Mass. Maritime School, 13-0, here yesterday.

Brown

Tiedemann bucked for five and Goodman on a reverse, galloped all the way to the 13. Two rushes failed to gain and a pass was incomplete. A lateral was fumbled and Dartmouth took the ball on downs on its 20.

Lowe nailed Holt for a five-yard loss, Bennett punted to the Brown 48. Brown was penalized 15 yards for holding. A long pass, Goodman to Moody gave the Bruins first down on the Green 32.

Tiedemann on a lateral play, scooted the side lines down to the two-yard stripe. Goodman went over but Brown was offside and penalized five yards. Goodman failed to gain but Tiedmann rammed through center for a touchdown. Goodman failed to convert.

Score—Brown 13, Dartmouth 0.

Three plays later the period ended with Dartmouth in possession on its 40.

SECOND PERIOD

An exchange of punts left the Green with the ball on its 45. Two line bucks by Bonk were good for a first down on the Brown 45. Bennett kicked out of bounds on the Brown 28.

Tiedemann's punt was carried back by Holt to the Brown 42. Dartmouth's advance was stopped on the Brown 35 and Holt kicked into the end zone.

Cleary went into the Brown backfield and found a 22 yard hole good for a first down on the 22. Dartmouth stiffened and Tiedemann kicked to Holt who ran back 15 yards to the Dartmouth 48.

The Green could get nowhere and Ginrich got off a punt that rolled to the Brown 8. Tiedemann broke through to the 23. Cleary and Tiedemann combined to pick up 12 more yards.

Peck recovered an O'Leary fumble on the Brown 32. McMullen intercepted a Lewis pass on the Brown 30 where the half ended.

Score: Brown, 13, Dartmouth, 0.

THIRD PERIOD

Holt's kickoff went into the end zone. After losing five yards on the first play from scrimmage, Tiedemann punted out of bounds on the midfield stripe.

Bonk smacked center for five yards. Bennett picked up five. Bonk added five more and then Bonk found a 17-yard hole bringing the ball up to the Brown 18.

Fritts sliced through to the 15. Bonk galloped dow to the three for a first down. Bennett plunged over for a touchdown. Lewis converted.

Score—Brown 12, Dartmouth 7.

O'Brien took Lewis' kickoff on the five and moved back to the 28. Tiedemann was hurt on the play and limped off the field as Clarke replaced him.

After Clarke was held without gain, Leonard went in to kick for Brown, and kicked to Fritts, who was downed in his tracks on the Dartmouth 39. Two short gains which netted four yards, Bonk drove through for a first down on the Brown 47. Bank smashed through for seven more.

Baron Jack Seeks Third Straight Win

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Henry Lustig's $33,000 colt—the two-year-old Baron Jack — goes after his third straight victory in the $10,000 added Ardsley Handicap at Jamaica racetrack today. His chief opposition over the mile and 70 yards was expected to come from J. M. Roebling's Wildlife and George D. Widener's Sir Francis.

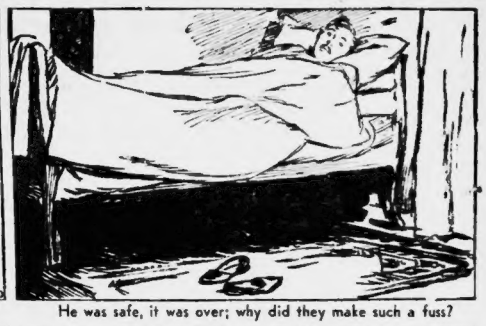
The Lost Weekend

Based on the powerful, best-selling novel of five unforgettable days in a man's life

BY CHARLES JACKSON
ILLUSTRATIONS BY F. R. GRUGER

The pawnbroken fingered the jacket. "Is it hot?"

Don hung two bottles outside . . .



He was safe, it was over; why did they make such a fuss?

STARING down at Holy Love, Don's stomach went cold and he turned and fled back to the bedroom. Melodrama! In all his life he had never been in any situation so corny, so ham. He felt like an idiot.

He looked wildly about the room. Helen's typewriter was gone. Had she taken it with her on purpose? God they thought of everything.

Not everything. Over the chair was her short leopard jacket. He snatched it up and hurried out. Minutes later, the pawnbroker was fingering it. He asked, "Is it hot?"

He didn't follow. "Hot?"

"Did you steal it?"

He went dumb with surprise. His anger grew as he said meekly, "No, it belongs to my wife. Give me—"

"Okay. Five dollars." Don hurried out with the bills clutched in his hand. He rolled them up and stuck them into his outside breast pocket. His fingers ran into opposition. He reached in and pulled out a fistful of bills. He was thunder-struck. So that was where he had been sticking the money he thought was lost! There was $27 in bills and more in change.

Near home, he hurried into a liquor store and grabbed up six pints of rye. As he entered the apartment, Mac barked from his basket but Wick was not around.

In his relief he began to shake. He took two of the pints and hid them in the bathroom. About the necks of two more, he tied lengths of string and hung them out the bedroom window on the tiny awning cleats. Now he had two pints left, one to drink, the other to be taken away. He tucked the other bottle in the book-case where Wick was certain to look when he found Don drunk and asleep.

He got a glass, sat down on the bed and began to drink. He thought of the money, ran and got it and spread it out on the table, fan-wise, piling the change in the center. That would satisfy Wick, satisfy anybody.

He stripped to his shorts and fired the clothes into a corner of the closet. He had another drink and crawled into bed, feeling like a million dollars.

He lay listening now for Wick. Let him come any time. The thing was over. He himself was back home in bed again and safe. God knows why or how but he had come through one more. No telling what might happen the next time but why worry about that? This one was over and nothing had happened at all. Why did they make such a fuss?

Bruins Send 8 Vets Against Canadiens

By BILL GRIMES

After two weeks of morning and afternoon training sessions in Quebec City, the Bruins broke camp today and entrained for Montreal, where tonight, they open the 1944-45 National Hockey League season against Les Canadiens, holders of the Stanley Cup, at the Forum.

Manager Art Ross refused to make any predictions as to how his Bruins would fare during the coming campaign. However, he did make one statement, to wit: "Today, I am a man. It is my 21st birthday as manager of the Bruins." There's been so much written about "Dit" Clapper starting his 18th season with the Bruins that he fans lost sight of the fact that Art Ross has outlasted all the managers, who were handling N. H. L. clubs in the fall of 1924.

After watching his charges in action twice daily for a fortnight, Art Ross selected eight veterans and six rookies to comprise the Bruins squad.

WHAT A DEFENSE!

The Rossmen will have a veteran outer defense, "Dit" Clapper, Jack Crawford, Pat Egan and Jack Shewchuk, who have the ability and experience to give young Gordon Bennett, the new goal minder, ample protection.

"Buz" Boll and "Busher" Jackson recently announced their retirement from hockey and "Bep" Guidolin, the colorful left winger, has received his call from the Canadian armed forces.

Manager Ross will start the Cowley line against the Flying Frenchmen tonight. "Crafty" Bill Cowley will be the play maker for Herb Cain, who topped all N.H.L. scorers last season, and Ken Smith, a 20-year-old kid from Regina, who was recently discharged from the Canadian navy.

Frankie Mario, who was with the Rossmen before the war, will center for the second line and will be flanked by two experienced wingmen, "Stoney" Jackson and Norm Calladine.

For his third line, Manager Ross has picked Pete Leswick, who has played with Spokane and Seattle in the Pacific Coast League and Kansas City and Ft. Worth of the American Hockey Association, for right wing, Bill Cupolo, from Niagara Falls, Ont. at center and Paul Gladu, who is a cousin of Roland Gladu, Hartford's slugging infielder, up from the Quebec Aces, on the left flank.

Crack Peabody Team Invades Lawrence

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Scored on for the first time last week, Peabody High School's undefeated Tanners will be attempting to erase the bad dreams of Lynn English tomorrow afternoon when the classy eleven of Coach Bill Seeglitz invades Lawrence for one of the features of the Sunday schoolboy football program.

Peabody's double figure scoring sprees in five contests this fall have convinced plenty of the fans that this outfit outranks Malden and Salem in Class A standings in spite of the existing figures.

The Tanners will have an opportunity to prove these fans right or wrong, at least in half this contention, on Nov. 12 when they'll tangle with the Salem eleven. If they should come through the Witches' game on top, as well as the remainder of their schedule, then the fans once again will have an opportunity to battle out that old question of "co-state champions." Remember two years ago the Medford-Melrose arguments? And last fall, the Melrose-Waltham question?

A definite settlement could be reached in a post-season game but then there's the question as to whether a coach would care to risk an undefeated record in a playoff.

Right now, however, Coach Seeglitz is more interested in getting by Lawrence before setting his sights on the stiff Salem clash. Then, h'd like to talk post season tilts. His Peabody eleven has romped over Marblehead (21-0), Revere (21-0), Lynn Classical (22-0), Beverly (27-0) and Lynn English (13-7). He'll be content with another set of double numerals on the Peabody side of the slate tomorrow.

Peabody will be starting the same lineup that opened last week's game. Tony Kravchuck, Walter Roche, Jack Connolly and Richard Keon will be in the backfield behind a powerful line of ends Chester Dudsziz and Jim McDonald; tackles John Berger and Capt. Henry Pelletier; guards Ernest St. Paul and Bob McHugh and center Art Anapolous. Capt. Pelletier and Berger, 215-pounders, have been outstanding.

Eagles Come Back In 2d Half at Fens

FENWAY PARK, Oct. 28—A capable Boston College football machine reached its peak here today when it conquered Syracuse before a chilled throng. The win evened a score of 20 years' standing, for the Orange won when the teams last met two decades ago.

B. C. won by 19 to 13.

FIRST PERIOD

Walsh took Acocello's kick and ran it to the 20. Syracuse held, and B. C. kicked to Cosentino at the Syracuse 40. Dolan ripped off 13 yards to B. C.'s 47 and two plays later Cosentino raced to the B. C.'s 37 for a second first down.

B. C. braced and Baysinger punted outside on the B. C. 12. Walsh skirted Syracuse right end to the 20, but B. C. was forced to punt again. Englert punted and Murphy sprinted down the field to toss Dolan of Syracuse on the Orange 37.

Dolan and Buchsbaum tied together a first down but B. C.'s Donelan stopped the march by tossing Baysinger for a loss, and the Orange was forced to punt again.

Cosentino fumbled a B. C. kick. On-the-Spot Murphy recovered for B. C. Now Elliott fumbled and Cosentino recovered for Syracuse. A moment later Elliott squared himself by intercepting a Buchsinger pass.

Englert punted to Syracuse's 20. Doland quick-kicked prettily to B. C.'s 18 as the period ended.

Score: Boston College 0, Syracuse 0.

SECOND PERIOD

B. C. kicking on fourth down all the first period, found that policy fatal early in the second period. After losing ground on three rushes, B. C. was forced to kick from its goal line on fourth down.

The pass from center was high, and Englert was smothered by Syracusans and the visitors took the ball on downs on the B. C. 2. Buchsbaum promptly went over for the touchdown. The conversion failed.

Score—Syracuse 6, Boston College 0.

Now B. C. got mad. And tied the score on eight plays. Syracuse kicked off and Elliott carried to the 25. Elliott ripped through to the 30 and then Walsh slid off tackle, broke into the clear and ran 36 yards to the Syracuse 33.

Two plays failed to gain but on the third down, Englert passed successfully to Bowdring on the seven-yard line for a first down. Elliott bulled through to the one. Reardon to the foot line and Eliott over for the equalizing touchdown. Conway's try for point failed.

Score—B. C. 6, Syracuse 6.

But soon it was Syracuse's turn to exult. For Eddie Dolan, Syracuse tailback, took King's kickoff on the 12, raced up the middle, broke to the sideline and ran 88 yards for a touchdown without a

One Jap Ship Sunk, 3 Hit Off Luichow

CHUNGKING, Oct. 28 (AP)—One Japanese destroyer was probably sunk and another damaged by U. S. 14th Air Force bombers during night operations Oct. 26 in an area 75 miles west of Luichow peninsula, a communique from Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

In addition an enemy tanker and cargo vessel were damaged during the attack, the communique said.

Illinois Scores On Notre Dame

CHAMPAIGN (AP)—Unbeaten Notre Dame, seeking its fifth straight victory, and once defeated Illinois met before a crowd of more than 65,000 in perfect football weather.

The turf at Memorial stadium appeared springy and well suited for an expected duel between Claude (Buddy) Young, Illini national sprint champion, and Bob Kelly, star Irish halfback.

FIRST PERIOD

Danciewicz returned Illinois' kick off 12 yards to the Notre Dame 42. The Irish were one yard short of a first down on the 50 and Kelly punted out of bounds on the Illini 19. Patterson and Greenwood gained to the 26 and then Young darted off his right tackle, cut sharply to the sidelines and whizzed 74 yards for a touchdown. Greenwood kicked the point and Illinois led 7-0 after three minutes of play.

Danciewicz returned Illinois' kickoff to the Illinois 45, but again the Irish found the going tough and Kelly kicked out on the Illinois 19. Greenwood fumbled and Roval recovered for Notre Dame. Two running plays failed to gain and Danciewicz passed to O'Connor on the Illini 7. Three plays later, Kelly rammed across from the 3 for a touchdown. On a fake placement, Danciewicz failed in a pass try for point and Illinois led 7-6. The period ended with Notre Dame in possession on its 20.

Score: Illinois 7, Notre Dame 6.

Dartmouth 14, Brown 13 in 4th

By JOE CASHMAN

BROWN STADIUM, Providence, Oct. 28—A 50-year-old grid rivalry was resumed here this afternoon when the Brown Bear took on the Dartmouth Indian for the first time since 1940. It was the 30th meeting of these New England Ivy foes since they first squared off in 1894 and Brown was favored to chalk up its first victory in the series since 1928.

The day was cold, bleak and extremely windy and the weather served to hold the crowd down to less than half of capacity, or an estimated 10,000.

Dartmouth was playing its first game since it was torn to shreds by Notre Dame in Boston two weeks ago today.

The Bruins, in their most recent start, upset the dope by holding Holy Cross to a 24-24 tie a week ago.

In that contest the Providence eleven chalked up more points than the Big Green has scored in three starts.

As a result, the Bruins were an 8-5 choice in this contest.

FIRST PERIOD

Brown won the toss. Facullo kicked off to Bennett who raced back from the goal line to the 25. After being held for 3 downs, Dartmouth called on Eddie Ginrich, making his first appearance of the season to punt. The kick was blocked by Moody and Brown took over on the Green 35.

Harvey broke through to nail Tiedemann for a five yard loss. But two plays later Tiedemann skirted the side lines to his right for 30 yards and a touchdown. Goodman converted.

Score Brown, 7, Dartmouth, 0.

Bennett took the next kickoff back to the Green 23. A short pass, Lewis to Miller gave Dartmouth first down on the 37. Bennett dropping back to pass, fum-
